Council to consider property sitter plan

PAID house-sitters may be used in empty buildings to deter vandals and thieves under plans being considered by Sandwell Council.

Swapping security guards for temporary tenants could save up to £18,000 in one borough property alone, bosses at Sandwell Council claim.

They are now considering the scheme, which would see people occupying empty council buildings for a small fee.

Costly

It would aim to stop empty buildings from being vandalised, set on fire or stripped of wiring and metal, without having to rely on costly 24-hour security companies.

Similar schemes are in operation in other parts of the country and see tenants placed in former offices and factories that are altered to accommodate them.

A report going before councillors today outlines two firms currently offering the service, who claim tenants can live in the empty buildings, from old schools to factories and shops, for around £35 to £60 a week.

The buildings are fitted with communal showers and kitchen facilities and the fee includes utility bills and council tax.

Collision girl is recovering

A GIRL is in hospital recovering from serious injuries after she was knocked down by a car in Old Hill on Saturday afternoon.

The accident happened on Station Road at around 2.40pm.

John Hawker, of West Midlands Ambulance Service, said: "The pedestrian, a girl believed to be 13, suffered serious head injuries. The girl was transferred to Birmingham Children's Hospital."

Anyone with information can call police on 101.

ANGER OVER CAR PARK PRICE HIKE

A HIKE in car parking charges in Dudley has come under fire from the opposition Tory group leader, who says the borough should bring in a free parking experiment instead.

The move is expected to boost cash-strapped council coffers by £100,000 a year.

Meanwhile, Dudley North MP Ian Austin is stepping up his campaign to stop a parking charge hike at hospital car parks, which he fears could be used to plug a black hole in NHS funding.

Dudley Council is putting up the cost of pay and display parking across the borough from Sunday in a move that will affect all council run pay and display car parks. Those with parking season tickets will also be hit with a price rise.

Increase

At Stourbridge's Ryemarket car park drivers will see charges rise from £1 an hour to £1.10 and those leaving vehicles in Penzer Street, Kingswinford, will see the price increase from 50p and hour to 60p. A £390 12-month season ticket will go up to £460, a rise of 15 per cent.

The increase in charges will bring in £100,000 a year while the council needs to make £34 million of cuts over the next three years.

The move has been attacked by opposition leader, Councillor Patrick Harley. He claimed that if the Conservatives were running the council an 18-month trial of free short-stay parking would be brought in and a review carried out on long-stay parking.

"At a time shops and businesses need our help in these towns, the council is giving another reason for

by Alex Ross and Daniel Wainwright

shoppers to stay away by increasing charges," he said.

"I hear so many times people saying they want to pull up in places like Kingswinford to shop but then don't have the change. I'd want a trial of free parking for three hours. We need to take a gamble."

Councillor Khurshid Ahmed, the council's cabinet member for transportation, defended the increase.

He said: "Car parking charges this year have risen in line with the agreed budget strategy for 2014/15, which still leaves us as one of the cheapest places to park in the Black Country."

Labour's Mr Austin said he was concerned vulnerable people could pay the price of budget short falls if hospital bosses put up parking rates. Mr Austin added he was "keen to ensure regulations are put in place to avoid rapid rises as hospitals come under increased financial pressure."

South Staffordshire Tory MP Gavin Williamson, who represents Kinver, said such charges should be scrapped.

It can cost up to £5.50 to park at Russells Hall Hospital. The rate for 24 hour parking at Sandwell General and Rowley Regis hospitals is £5.10.

Bravery and sacrifices will be honoured

Master of ceremonies Tom Trickett is calling for people to celebrate Armed Forces Day at Himley Hall on Sunday

PARADES and exhibitions will be held across the Black Country this weekend to mark Armed Forces Day.

Gatherings taking place to remember the sacrifices made by members of the forces in conflicts across the years will be particularly poignant this year as 2014 marks the centenary of the start of the First World War.

Armed Forces Day, formerly known as Veterans Day, is on Saturday from 11am when serving members of the Armed Forces will parade through Oldbury to mark the occasion.

One of the biggest events is at at Himley Hall near Dudley on Sunday when veterans will be presented with HM Armed Forces veterans badges, including those who served on Arctic Convoys and in the Bomber Command during the Second World War.

As well as an exhibition of First World War memorabilia at Himley Hall on Sunday there will be a re-enactment of soldiers going off to war.

Mayor of Dudley Councillor Margaret Aston said: "We'll never really know the extent of what our armed forces personnel had to endure during the First World War but it is important we all remember how hard they fought for their country's freedom, not only for their own but future generations too.

"It is only right that we pay special tribute to all those who served and fell in the war and share the memories with today's generation at our armed forces event so they are never forgotten."

Highlights on the day include an RAF Battle of Britain Memorial Flight flypast by a Spitfire, which will fly over the hall at around 2pm, weather permitting. The event will run from 11am and will include children's entertainment including a zip wire, go-karts, climbing wall and trampolines.

Negotiate plea after union vote for strike

A STRIKE by thousands of council workers and school staff has been criticised by council chiefs and MPs, who have branded it 'reckless' and 'inconvenient'.

Schools could close and some services grind to a halt during the planned walkout on Thursday, July 10. It comes after Unison voted in favour of strike action in a row over pay. The walkout coincides with planned action by the National Union of Teachers.

Unison leaders are being urged to reconsider by South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson. He said: "I would encourage them to get back around the negotiating table and think about the affect this is going to have on teachers, children and parents."

Dudley Council leader David Sparks said the authority was considering the implications of the vote.

Unison bosses insist the action is necessary after the Government proposed a one per cent pay rise.

Tony Rabaïotti, Unison spokesman, said: "Many of our members are low paid women earning barely above the minimum wage, who care for our children, our elderly and our vulnerable, and they deserve better treatment than they have had at the hands of this Government."

Arrest over knife attack

A MAN has been arrested on suspicion of attempted murder after a teenage girl suffered a knife wound to her chest in an early morning incident in Brierley Hill.

Police say the 16-year-old girl was taken to hospital following a scuffle at around 4.30am on Friday in Stourbridge Road, Brierley Hill.

She had a minor puncture wound to the chest.

A 36-year-old man was arrested on suspicion of attempted murder and then released on bail.

Stadium's revamp is hit by delays

A £17,000 improvement of Dudley's main sports stadium has hit delays caused by an equipment fault and the heavy rain disrupting work.

The running track at the Dell Stadium, in Pensnett, was closed last month for repairs and maintenance to take place.

It was expected to re-open earlier this month but Dudley Council has confirmed this had been put back until the end of the month. Officials blamed the delay on heavy rain which disrupted work. Specialist equipment used by the contractor has also broken down.

Cabinet member for health and well-being Councillor Rachel Harris said: "The heavy rain we have had in recent weeks has caused delays with the cleaning of the running track at the Dell Stadium. There is also a fault with the contractor's specialist equipment.

"We are working closely with them to get this work done as quickly as we can. We are hoping to have the track ready for use by the end of June.

"We are also speaking to athletics clubs who use the track to keep them informed of progress."

Hundreds of people use the stadium in Bryce Road every week and Dudley and Stourbridge Harriers athletics club use the stadium for training. Club chairman David Eades said: "It's caused some disruption. We only applied to have two or three home meetings this season because of the work taking place. Our next one is the beginning of July but that is starting to look doubtful."

Sex offender breached order with library jobs

A CONVICTED sex offender from Dudley breached a protection order by working at libraries,a court heard.

Former school technician Kevin Lowe, 52, was convicted in 2009 of having more than 2,000 indecent images of children on computers at his home.

He was given a 10-year sexual offenders protection order and banned from working with children. He was ordered to undergo three years' supervision and put on the sex offenders list for five years.

Wolverhampton Crown Court heard that he found work at various libraries in Birmingham between April and December last year.

School leaver jobs scheme helps 1,500

A SCHEME launched to support school leavers in danger of becoming long-term unemployed has already helped more than 1,500 youngsters.

Dudley Council's new Risk of NEET Indicator initiative was introduced at the start of the academic year in September 2013 and has supported 1,530 Dudley borough pupils, aged 13 to 16.

Dudley's scheme identifies pupils who are most at risk of not being in employment, education or training.

Each of the borough's 20 secondary schools and six special schools have a personal adviser working with the young people and their parents or carers.

As a result, figures show that the percentage of 17-year-olds now involved in employment, education or training is now 94 per cent compared to 92.9 per cent a year ago. This represents an additional 347 young people engaged in education or in work.

The Risk of NEET (Not in Employment, Education or Training) Indicator was introduced by the council's Connexions service and has won praise from the Local Government Association.

Danger

Mr Mark Rees, prosecuting, said that when interviewed by police, Lowe accepted that the positions would have put him in contact with children.

Mr Regan Peggs, defending Lowe, said: "There was never any possibility of him being alone with any children. It would appear there was very little risk of any harm being done whatsoever. He didn't realise when he applied for the job in libraries that he was placing himself in such danger."

Mr Peggs added that Lowe, of Stourbridge Road, had applied for the temporary library positions because of his 'bookishness'.

The court heard that Lowe, who lost his job at High Ardal School in Sedgley following his original conviction, told his arresting officers that he did not believe he had breached the order.

Judge Michael Challinor said Lowe had displayed 'breath-taking arrogance'.

Lowe pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking the terms of his sexual offenders order. He was sentenced to nine months jail suspended for 22 months and ordered to pay £250 costs.

Trash mountain still stands tall

The huge mound of rubbish at the former recycling firm in Brierley Hill, as seen from Moor Street

PILED high and with vegetation sprouting from it, this huge mound of waste remains an eyesore in Brierley Hill.

Residents living near to the former recycling waste site used by Refuse Derived Fuel Ltd in Brierley Hill still face this site daily — almost six months since the company's director Robert McNaughton was jailed for failing to meet the deadline to clear the waste.

Apart from bales being moved from the front of the site by the landlords, the Environment Agency admits it is unsure anything has moved in the past three months.

A spokesman said: "To our knowledge, no material has been removed since Mr McNaughton was released from prison.

"We are still monitoring the situation and we've stopped the company operating. It is still our intention to make those responsible pay for the action necessary. The legal process is complex but we will continue to pursue the outcome residents would want to see."

Thug is jailed for robbery in street

A THUG who decided to 'de-stress' after a row with his girlfriend by carrying out a violent robbery on strangers on a town centre street has been jailed for nine months.

Lee Cartwright attacked blameless pair Sebastian Bartlett and Reece Jenkins as they walked through Stourbridge late at night on April 12. The 23-year-old grabbed the young men, who had been on a night out, and warned: 'Give me your phone and wallet or I will knock you out.'

Wolverhampton Crown Court was told he took £10 from Mr Bartlett and punched Mr Jenkins in the face. Cartwright, from Brompton Drive, Brierley Hill, pleaded guilty to robbery and attempted robbery.

He was sent to prison by Judge Michael Challinor who said: "Robberies like this make ordinary people reluctant to go out at night."

The attacker, whose six previous convictions had not involved violence, told police: "I had an argument with my girlfriend and needed to de-stress."

Miss Blondelle Thompson, defending, said: "He was so horrified by his behaviour that he went straight to his doctor and was put on a drugs misuse programme."

Garden will aid charities

A LUSH garden will be opened to the public to raise cash for charity next week.

The event will take place in 13 Lansdowne Road, Hurst Green, Halesowen, on Sunday, July 6, between 12.30pm and 5.30pm.

Visitors to the garden will also be able to enjoy water features, mixed borders and shaded areas.

The event is taking place as part of the National Garden Scheme. It supports a number of causes including cancer charities. There will be plants for sale and teas available. The garden raised nearly £1,000 last year.

Allowance at risk

A SCHOOL clothing allowance which helps some of the poorest families in Sandwell pay for uniforms could be scrapped as part of budget cuts. Sandwell Council is looking at reducing or withdrawing the funding for the scheme in 2015/16 in a bid to make savings.

Clock is put in storage while new home found

A CLOCK has been moved as its traditional town-centre location faces an uncertain future.

The cast-iron pillar clock at Lye's Pocket Park, behind High Street, and is one of the town's best-known landmarks.

Dudley Council has confirmed the clock created to celebrate Lye's heritage has been placed in storage.

Bosses from the authority are now asking residents for their opinion on where the clock should be located.

The council has been forced to make the move as the future of the site is now being reconsidered by its owner.

The previous owner had allowed the council to refurbish the land as a public space back in the 1980s, complete with benches and the clock.

The benches will also be moved to the nearby Butterfly Children's Centre.

The clock will be stored by Lye firm Boro Foundry, where the piece was originally cast after being designed by borough artist Steve Field.

Residents can make a suggestion for the clock by e-mailing dudleycouncil-plus@dudley.gov.uk or calling 0300 555 2345.

Three on lead theft charges

THREE men accused of stealing lead from the roof of a care home in Halesowen are to appear in court.

Police were called to Halesowen Project for the Elderly on Queensway after a passerby spotted a group of men using ladders to get to the roof on May 27.

Three men were arrested and charged with theft. Mark Bilsby, aged 49 from Nagnersfield Road, Brierley Hill, David Fletcher, 21 from Junction Road, Lye and Jamie Bourne, 34 and also from Junction Road, Lye, will appear before Dudley Magistrates on July 15.

Nordic walks

WALKERS can step up the pace with fitness sessions at a park this summer.

Dudley Council is offering free Nordic walking classes at The Leasowes in Halesowen every Thursday. Beginners are invited to join in the 6 to 7pm session, advanced walkers at 5.30pm.

Heroin addict, 25, preyed on the elderly

A BOGUS workman who targeted elderly victims in a string of burglaries has been jailed for five years.

Samuel Davey stole cash and personal documents from the homes of his victims, some aged in their 80s and 90s, in Halesowen and Dudley.

Wolverhampton Crown Court heard last week that 25-year-old, of Snowdon Grove, Halesowen, had posed as a window cleaner and told another victim he was fixing a fence before stealing money in two distraction burglaries.

Police tracked him down after his DNA was found on towels and a pen at their properties.

Mr Nicholas Burn, prosecuting, said Davey had appeared inside the home of a 93-year-old in Halesowen, on April 24 and told her he was fixing a fence for the next door neighbour. After he left, she realised he had taken her handbag containing around £40 in cash.

He had targeted the home of an 85-year-old woman in Halesowen less than a month before. Davey asked her if she wanted her windows cleaning and claimed he needed to come into the house to measure up the windows. Once inside he asked for a hot drink and to borrow a pen, whilst the victim made him a cup of tea Davey took her purse from her handbag, containing her bus pass and around £70 cash.

Chewed

The court heard that he had also ransacked the home of a 62-year-old in Lower Gornal last November while she had been out, stealing her passport, birth certificate, medication, mobile phone and headphones.

Davey's DNA was found on towels at two of the properties and on the pen lent to him by one of the victims, which he had chewed.

He pleaded guilty to three counts of burglary. In mitigation, Ms Amanda Tomkins said he had been a drug user for around five years and had spent £60 a day on heroin.

Handing Davey a five-year prison sentence, Judge Michael Challinor told him he had targeted elderly people 'deliberately' and 'systematically'.

He told him: "The elderly are always very traumatised by burglary.

"They feel vulnerable in their homes. The impact upon them is very significant."

Developer funds warden to care for nature area

A WARDEN will be employed to manage a conservation site in Halesowen for the first time with the help of a £60,000 cash grant.

They will work to preserve 12 acres of land at the Coombs Wood Green Wedge after a 50-year lease was agreed for the site.

St Modwen has signed the agreement with Dudley Council following the developer being granted permission to build new homes on the site of the former Coombs Wood Cricket Club.

It was replaced by a new clubhouses built on part of the Green Wedge. As well as leasing the 12 acres to the council, St Modwen has agreed to invest £60,000 to support the recruitment and employment of a warden to look after the area. They will have responsibility for ensuring it is maintained and remains an attractive place for residents to visit.

Ian Romano, senior development surveyor at St Modwen, said: "We have undertaken a number of projects in the Coombs Wood area of Halesowen that show our commitment to enhance amenities for local residents. This has included the creation of a new sports and social club, securing the future of Coombs Wood Cricket Club.

"This latest initiative will make a huge difference to people living locally and will help to support access to open space and natural environments."

Dudley regeneration boss Councillor Judy Foster said: "This land is an important green environment. The longer-term retention of this space and partnership with St Modwen will help support our aim to deliver open green spaces for existing and future residents."

The cricket club HQ was built on land off Stewart Road.

Libraries to join day of celebration

BLACK Country songs, poetry and short stories will be performed in libraries across Dudley borough next month.

The events have been organised to tie-in with the official Black Country Day on July 14.

Poet Liz Berry will perform readings during a coffee morning at Netherton Library on the day itself, starting at 10.30am.

Readings will be from her debut collection which is due to be published in August.

Also on July 14, Gornal Library will host a Black Country afternoon tea where bread pudding will be served from 2pm to 4pm.

On July 15, Billy Spakemon will perform his poetry and short stories in Black Country dialect at Dudley Library. The event will run from 3.30pm to 4.30pm in the library's reading room.

All of the events are free and people are advised to reserve seats for the Dudley and Netherton events.

Dudley Library is on (01384) 815560 and Netherton Library (01384) 812845.

Caring nurse Kate really is a cut above

District nurse Kate Owen, Queen's Nurse award winner, has her hair cut off helped by fellow fundraiser Tracey Cooper

A DISTRICT in Dudley has proved she is a cut above by donating her hair to charity.

When Kate Owen learned last year that her five-year-old cousin Jack had Leukaemia she wanted to do something to show her support. So over the last few months she has grown her hair in preparation for it to be shaved off and donated to the Little Princess Trust, a charity that makes wigs for young girls and boys who have lost their hair during chemotherapy.

In all the mother-of-two, who has been a nurse in Dudley for 20 years, lost ten inches of hair during the fundraising event at the Dudley Arms in Himley, which managed to raise £800 thanks to sponsorship and also a vintage tea party and, raffle.

Kate said: "I wanted to do something for the charity after I found out about Jack.

"I also work with a lot of cancer patients and I understand the impact it has on lives.

"I am so pleased with how it went, we managed to raise a lot of money and we all had fun."

The 40-year-old from Kingswinford has another reason to celebrate after being given the title of Queen's Nurse by the Queen's Nursing Institute award for her work setting up community clinics at Brierley Hill Health and Social Care Centre. Her team has taken strain off hospitals with an oncology clinic helping cancer patients and an antibiotic clinic.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

WE watched the sun go down over Beer beach in Devon as we have done from time to time since 1972. Why do folk go back to the same familiar places, year after year? In one of her short stories Margaret Atwood says it is "to steady myself against the current of time that is flowing past and over me, faster and faster." Anyone over 50 knows exactly what she means.

□□□□□□

YOU can't help noticing how many of the second-hand volumes in the Beer church book stall are do-it-yourself manuals. The connection, presumably, is that the name of Our Saviour is uttered more often in DIY than in just about any other human endeavour, and certainly with feeling. There is probably more religious language in 20 minutes of plumbing than in a whole Sunday in church.

□□□□□□

IF you need proof that the Devonian lifestyle is good for you, look no further than the routine death announcements outside a local funeral director's. This week's dear departed were 93, 97 and 101.

□□□□□□

HOW international politics works. Memorandum from the Grand Ayatollah to all citizens of Iran: With effect from 0900 on Monday the stinking, whore-bred spawn of the Great Satan will be known as "our dear friends the American people".

□□□□□□

DEAR Tony, of course it's not your fault. There is no connection between your invasion of Iraq in 2003 and the chaos that has followed. Nor is there any connection between the UK debt crisis and all those billions of pounds you and Gordon borrowed. And there is definitely no connection between the rise of Ukip and your policy of open-door immigration. It's all just pure coincidence. Yours sincerely, Alastair Campbell.

Council directors face axe in bid to save £1m

UP to half of the senior managers at Dudley Council will lose their jobs to cut more than £1 million from the staff budget.

Eleven of the 22 department directors and assistant directors are at risk of redundancy at the cash-strapped local authority as the council undertakes a 'major review' of the senior management team.

The first of the senior managers could lose their jobs by the end of the year under the 'corporate restructure'.

It comes as Dudley Council is planning to make cuts of £34 in the next three years with 40 redundancies already announced.

But the authority has already predicted there will be a further £23m shortfall over the same period.

Dudley Council's cabinet will consider a report on the senior management restructuring next month.

Modernise

Proposals will have to go out to formal consultation with staff who are directly affected.

Dudley Council leader Councillor David Sparks said the authority needed to modernise in the wake of funding cuts from Government. "It is important that we bring forward a management structure that is fit for the 21st century," he said.

"We must have the right people in place so we can become more of an outward looking authority, that not only serves our local communities but is also effective at a regional and sub regional level.

"All councils face significant and unprecedented financial challenges due to significant cuts in Government funding. We must save £1 million in staffing costs. At the same time the modernisation of our council management is long overdue."

"However, whilst we are making considerable savings through restructuring, we should still retain the fabric of the local authority."

It comes just days after chief executive John Polychronakis announced he was stepping down ahead of the corporate restructure. The precise date of his retirement has yet to be fixed but Mr Polychronakis said he will remain at the council until a successor is able to take up the post.

Funeral date for former mayor

THE funeral of former Mayor of Dudley John Woodall will be held in Halesowen on Monday.

Mr Woodall retired as Conservative councillor for Halesowen South in May. The former Justice of the Peace, who died last Tuesday aged 80, had served for 24 years in two stints on Dudley Council.

The funeral will be at St John's Church, in High Street, from noon with private cremation attended by family only afterwards. It is family flowers only but relatives say donations will be gratefully received for the Friends of Leasowes by funeral directors Gaunts and Sons of Blackheath.

Mr Woodall leaves a wife Audrey, two daughters, three grand-daughters and a great-granddaughter.

Halesowen and Rowley Regis MP James Morris said: "John was not only a giant of Halesowen community life over many decades but he earned a reputation as also being one of the hardest-working, most dedicated and most helpful people in local politics. He will be enormously missed."

Priority list for police is outlined

TACKLING problem parking, anti-social behaviour and drug and alcohol-related crime have been outlined as priorities in a new Sandwell police plan.

It will see increased enforcement of parking regulations as well as work to reduce the number of teenagers hanging around the borough's streets.

The new Local Policing and Crime Plan was launched by West Midlands Police and Crime Commissioner Bob Jones at St Phillips Primary School in Smethwick. It sets out the plan for community policing in Sandwell over the next 12 months and has been put together following a public consultation.

Deputy leader of Sandwell Council and cabinet member for town and neighbourhood services, Councillor Mahboob Hussain, said the consultation showed that inconsiderate parking was blighting neighbourhoods.

He added: "The local policing and crime plan is a commitment to tackling the concerns of Sandwell residents. The two major concerns raised by residents were issues with teenagers hanging around in certain areas and tackling inconsiderate parking."

Other commitments in the plan include reducing domestic violence and protecting vulnerable people.

Ann's smile
puts her in top gear

WILLENHALL'S Ann Skitt retrieves her bike from the garage, deftly fixes a slipped chain, and is ready "to go anywhere."

A young-at-heart 75-year-old, she oozes charisma and charm, still goes to the gym "when she needs to shed a few pounds" and is the life and soul of the party at her local Young At Heart Club where she is a volunteer worker.

It's hard to imagine that his retired assembly worker could ever be knocked back. But failing teeth "became an embarrassment," she recalls. Recently she was fitted with implant-retained dentures, inspired by a newspaper article on Steven Burchell's work at the Denture Clinic.

She says: "You don't realise how having bad teeth can affect you until you have treatment like this and you get the confidence back. The whole shape of my mouth has changed. I could not have wished for better treatment. My care was first class and Steven has become like family to us."

Suction solution is this the answer for you?

A CUTTING-EDGE development to help resolve the stability problems faced by thousands of denture wearers is being offered by the Denture Clinic.

Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS(Eng) GDC108353, who heads the teams at his North Street practice in Dudley, and other clinics across the region, says the invention has the potential to resolve all-too-common denture stability issues.

Prosthetics are held in place by tiny valve-operated suction devices which are built into the prescription. A clever diaphragm principle, triggered by bite pressure on patients' gums, creates a 'sucking' vacuum between the soft-tissue mouth lining and the prosthetic.

Steven, whose clinics attracts patients from as far as Spain, the Isle of Skye and the Isle of Anglesey, adds: "The denture revolution is evolving at a frightening pace."

"In recent times we have seen, what I can describe only as strident steps forward, with implant-retained over-dentures, 'teeth-in-a-day' implant procedures and suction solution dentures, all coming into main-stream dentistry."

"We also have clever injection moulding technology which allows excellent fitting outcomes and our clinical solutions have never been so appealing."

"Implant dentistry as a resolve for stabilisation issues

The Ultra Suction system is available for both top and lower dentures, enables the construction of a plateless top denture and can be successfully used in relined work is not suitable for everyone, neither is it all patients' first preference, but the Ultra Suction prosthetics offer yet another possibility.

"The beauty of this affordable technology is that it can deliver for the right patient excellent denture retainer qualities without the invasive clinical procedures required for implant work. We have always endeavoured to be on the very cusp of clinical development and this is another 'tool' in our commitment to ever-try to deliver results which are greater than patient expectations."

"Lower dentures can often be troublesome as stability is compromised by shrinking gums and bone erosion - it's all part of the ageing process. Ill-fitting dentures create painful friction problems on gums and not least, be a source of compromised chewing and embarrassment."

Reduction

Steven adds: "The device can be mounted on upper or lower teeth and because of its efficiency allows us to consider a reduction in the size of the acrylic 'plate' which can result in improved speech and taste."

Typically, Denture Clinic patients will be assigned more than three-and-a-half clinical hours surgery time in achieving the best possible outcome.

Dentures have traditionally never been associated with cosmetic makeovers, "but our high-quality prosthetics have quite literally taken years off some of our patients," says Steven. "Can dentures look glamorous? Emphatically, yes - we have taken years off the appearance of some of our patients."

Court is to rule on fate of woman in hospital

A 20-year-old woman fighting for her life in a West Midlands hospital will have her fate decided by the Court of Protection after doctors claimed she should be allowed to die.

The woman, who cannot be named, suffers from severe problems including cerebral palsy, curvature of the spine and learning disabilities. Known as AB, she also has type 2 diabetes, epilepsy and recurrent respiratory tract infections.

Currently in a critical care unit run by Sandwell & West Birmingham Hospitals NHS Trust, her doctors believe she should not be given cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

The woman's parents do not support withdrawal of treatment.

Medics believe it is not in the best interests of AB to give her invasive ventilation, CPR or inotropes and renal support therapy, should the need arise. Sandwell & West Birmingham Hospitals NHS Trust have therefore asked the Court of Protection to rule on the matter.

On Tuesday Mrs Justice Theis was given an outline of the case at a preliminary hearing at the Court of Protection in London.

She ordered the woman to be kept in a critical care unit until the court had received all the information. A full hearing to decide the matter will be held on 14 July.

Trust gets £25k grant to boost sport uptake

A TRUST which manages eight leisure centres and a golf course in the Black Country has received a grant of more than £25,000 to encourage more people to get into sport.

Sandwell Leisure Trust has been awarded the cash by Sport England to fund a project that will offer people the opportunity to try 14 of the 17 sports that make up the programme for the Glasgow 2014 Commonwealth Games.

by Tom Mason

These include swimming, athletics, badminton, boxing, cycling, gymnastics, hockey, judo, bowls, netball, table tennis, rugby, triathlon and weight lifting.

The sites run by Sandwell Leisure Trust include Haden Hill Leisure Centre, Hadley Stadium, Harry Mitchell Leisure Centre, Langley Swimming Centre, Portway Lifestyle Centre, Smethwick Swimming Centre, Tipton Leisure Centre and Tipton Sports Academy.

Working with local sports clubs for each of the activities Sandwell Leisure Trust hopes to encourage more physical activity in leisure centres, schools and community venues.

People that want to take a sport or activity further will then be given the opportunity to join a local club.

Paul Slater, Chief Executive of Sandwell Leisure Trust said: "The funding that we have received from Sport England via Sport's 'Make Your Move' campaign is essential to secure sports' participation for our local community.

"It will allow us to offer enhanced services to local people, support Sandwell's local sports clubs and further develop participation in sports in this area.

Sport England property director Charles Johnston said: "The 13 projects which are being funded in the first year of the campaign have clearly demonstrated their enthusiasm to create projects that directly benefit their local communities."

Brian Leonard, Sport's CEO said: "By funding projects designed by local trusts and created specifically for local people, the Make Your Move campaign can make a real difference to local people. This, in turn, offers true benefits to these trusts' local communities."

More than 20 fitness classes will also be on offer at community venues across Sandwell. Call 0121 506 4980.

City Metro extension taking shape

Work is carried out on the £128m extension of the Midland Metro in Bull Street, Birmingham

A LANDMARK moment in the £128 million extension of the Midland Metro in Birmingham has taken place as concrete was poured into the tracks.

It has been described as 'symbolic' for the future of trams in the city as the extension of the line gathers pace. Concrete was poured onto the tracks by workers from Balfour Beattie last Thursday. The extension will see the line run from Snow Hill through Bull Street, Corporation Street and Stephenson Street, to terminate outside the re-vamped New Street station.

Sandwell Councillor Roger Horton, who is in charge of rail at Centro, which runs the Metro, said: "Trams are very much a transport mode of the future and this is a significant and symbolic moment for the Metro extension. In the year that sees the 60th anniversary of the last tram running in Birmingham we are seeing the first tracks go in for a new 21st century system. People can see that the return of trams, with all the economic benefits they will bring, is that much closer."

NEWS in brief

College arts hub is taking shape

THE construction of a £2.9 million arts centre in Stourbridge to serve hundreds of students is forging ahead with work taking place to install the roof.

The complex which fronts Coventry Street and Duke Street is on track to be completed by the end of October. Once completed it will bring King Edward VI College's information technology, graphics, dance and drama departments under one roof.

It is the second phase of the college redevelopment after construction of a £1.3m maths centre, which opened in September.

Principal Sharon Phillips said: "The new £2.9m arts block will provide state of the art accommodation."

Red Hill route is set to open again

A ROAD which has been partially closed for 18 months after a wall collapsed was due to reopen yesterday.

Work took place after rubble and other debris fell into the roadway in Red Hill, Stourbridge, on Christmas Eve 2012.

Dudley Council bosses were forced to shut the road completely for three months as part of the major clean up operation.

The route was due to reopen to two way traffic on Wednesday at 6am after the completion of repairs.

WHILE sitting in a park recently, I was informed that according to an old wives' tale it is good luck if a pigeon makes a mess on your shoe. Having had a couple of weeks to reflect on this, I have come to the conclusion that this is a myth.

It is bad luck if a pigeon messes on your shoe. But good luck indeed if said pigeon misses and lays a bit fat splat on the traffic warden standing next to you.

OBSERVING that Wayne Rooney's wife was pictured at the airport in Brazil with no fewer than 15 suitcases, somebody remarked on Facebook that 'Coleen Rooney's luggage sums up all that is wrong with English soccer!' On balance, I feel inclined to agree. Except that it wasn't her spare clothes I had in mind.

AND why does every football match now have to be preceded by half an hour's worth of sentimental gush about the players' personal lives?

Gushing tales about how 'grandad was always there for them' and tearful tales about how they want their children to be proud of them. Could you have imagined Nobby Stiles or Geoff Hurst blathering on like that before a must-win game? Of course not. It's supposed to be a sport not the Oprah Winfrey show.

INTERESTING to see that the British and US governments appear to be adopting a policy of 'whoever is my enemy's enemy is my friend' by joining forces with Iran in the fight against the Isis militias in Iraq.

It is of course a policy which has been tried before. Not so long ago, it was Iran's fundamentalist leader Ruhollah Khomeini who was public enemy number one, agitating trouble wherever he went, taking his country back to the Middle Ages, calling us 'Little Satan' and ordering his followers to murder a British author, nice friendly stuff like that.

To counter the growing menace that Khomeini was presenting to world peace, the West decided to support his biggest enemy and provided him with weapons to attack Iran. There were concerns that this man too might have one or two murderous habits but he seemed a bit more civilised, and he always dressed nicely whereas Khomeini dressed up like a villain out of one of the Harry Potter films.

His name, of course, was Saddam Hussein. When Khomeini died in 1990, he was no longer our friend.

Maybe it's just down to being a simple 'mon' from the Black Country. But British foreign policy seems a confusing business sometimes.

Raise a glass to vineyard's success

British wines are now taken seriously due to vineyards such as Halfpenny Green, says JAMES FISHER

ONCE sneered at across the globe, English wine is now being taken very seriously, with local wine-makers taking on – and beating – some of the most established names in the business.

Halfpenny Green Vineyard, in Bobbington, has seen first-hand how attitudes towards homegrown wines have changed during its 30-year history.

Clive Vickers, who co-owns the vineyard and makes the wine, said the resurgence was seeing homegrown wines taking on even those from the famous Champagne region.

Awards

"We've been growing grapes here for 30 years now and going back to the 1980s there was definitely a stigma attached to what we were doing," he said.

"But during the last two or three years, as a country, we have realised we can now make really decent wine, which is now winning awards on a regular basis.

"English wine growers across the country are now winning competitions, not just nationally but also internationally.

"Customers are also coming back on a regular basis and not just trying the brands as a one-off.

"Such is the interest we are no longer producing enough wine to deal with the demand."

The vineyard's most popular wines include a medium white, called Black Country Gold, as well as Penny Red, a 12

Martin Vickers with some of the wines on sale in the shop at the vineyard per cent, medium bodied red. There is even an English sparkling wine to rival the products of Champagne.

Halfpenny scooped a silver award at the Decanter World Wine Awards – the first British producer to ever to receive the honour – for its red wine, Rondo.

The vineyard has expanded from just half an acre to more than 30 acres over the years. It now produces between 50,000 and 70,000 bottles a year, depending on the weather. Halfpenny has even secured contracts to supply stores such as Waitrose.

out which varieties worked for us. For any new wine growers now all the information is out there for them," added Mr Vickers.

He said the warmer weather in England was also having an impact on the industry with certain grape varieties growing in Britain, which would not previously have survived.

"Whether it's down to climate change is up for debate but the reason there are more vineyards is because of the weather," he said.

"It's arguable whether the weather is improving because of all the rain we've had, which we have to try and deal with.

"But we've got varieties of grapes growing here that would not have survived a generation ago.

"One of the main changes we have seen is from the British public who are enjoying local produce of all varieties.

"People are more conscious of the miles food travels now and realise they can get a product just up the road, which is as good as one from Australia or Argentina."

The vineyard was originally the vision of Martin Vickers, who planted his first grapes three decades ago. Thirty years on it boasts 30 acres of vines, which are managed by Martin and crafted by his son, Clive.

Today Halfpenny, which is situated 250 feet above sea level, is one of the largest in the UK.

For 23 years the vineyard has been awarded prizes for its wines, including international, national and regional recognition.

Numerous awards have come from the Mercian Vineyard Association and the UKVA, including in 2013 when it won silver for its Tom Hill and bronze for its Old Meadow, Penny Black and pink sparkling wines at the UKVA, and silver or its pink and white sparkling wines at the Mercian awards.

The family business now includes a shop, restaurant, deli and a tearoom.

POLITICS

WAINWRIGHT

REDUCED to little more than a third of the membership of Walsall Council, one might very well question the audacity of Tory leader Mike Bird in bidding to retain control.

All the numbers were against him. Labour had won a couple more seats in last month's local elections and now held half.

The death of opposition leader Tim Oliver left Labour one more down. But in order for Labour to be defeated it would require every other party and the independents to team up against it. Somehow that is exactly what happened.

Mike Bird managed something that many Tories can only dream of, he got UKIP to support him staying in control. He is adamant that nothing was offered and that no deals were done, which raises a problem for Nigel Farage's Eurosceptics. Can they really claim to be as anti the Tories as they are Labour?

The Lib Dems, of course, have made their bed with the Tories over the past two years and must now lie in it for better or worse.

But Walsall's blue-gold-purple alliance is not in a stable position politically. There will be a by-election in Birchills Leamore to find a successor for Tim Oliver and I wouldn't bet against Labour keeping the seat.

Councillor Bird is going to have to come up with a year of political miracles. He has to keep not only his own party on side but the Lib Dems, UKIP and two independents, as well as trying to win over the mayor, Democratic Labour's Pete Smith (not to be confused with Labour Classic, New or One Nation).

Some councillors are new and untested. They all have to be there for every single vote to avoid defeat. And Councillor Bird has no authority over the ones who are not in his party. He has to get a budget passed. But then Labour has form for sitting on its hands in Walsall, despite first protesting and posing for pictures with campaigners, amid concerns that had they voted the budget down they would have paralysed the council.

He will have to keep a constant watch for a motion of no confidence.

WEST Bromwich MP Tom Watson has put Mr Miliband's spin doctors on warning that they need to cut out the schoolboy errors. These included the decision to pose with a copy of The Sun and the now infamous pictures of Mr Miliband struggling with a bacon sandwich.

I'd add to that the decision to bring the leader to Walsall three days before polling day and invite party supporters to a speech they would already completely agree with. While the faithful were gathered and hanging on Ed's every word, they were not out knocking doors and winning hearts and minds.

Blair keen to send young people to war

I SEE that Tony Blair is again extolling the virtues of us going to war in the Middle East. Is it his avowed intent to send the cream of our youth into battle to justify his role of ambassador for peace in the Middle East? We must pray that the powers that be take no notice of his ravings. I feel sure that the last thing we want to see are more flag draped coffins being repatriated to these shores.

Why doesn't he practice what he preaches and go marching off to war himself? While not wishing him any harm, I'm certain that a short spell under fire would quell the fighting spirit that seems to burn in his breast when he is advocating sending other people's sons and daughters into harm's way.

We are no longer a big enough power to be able to police the whole world, even if we were, we no longer have the wherewithal to undertake such tasks, having so depleted our armed forces. I fear that we would be hard pushed to defend the Channel Islands, we can only hope that the need never arises.

Britain set a bad example

B PARSONS believes that the EU is subjugating the UK.

We entered into it voluntarily after a referendum and send representatives to its Parliament every five years.

Over hundreds of years, the UK acquired domination and control over 50 countries by force of arms and kept them subjugated by military power. All this set a very bad example to Germany. Remarkably, those 50 countries still fought for us to stop Germany taking our world control off us in 1914 and 1939. To this day, the US-UK with NATO, remain as the world's dominant power bloc. Germany is the dominant partner in the EU and Angela Merkel of Germany is highly respected by constraint and not coercion. Quite a difference from our history!

A Mander Centre trip is too costly

IT'S nice to know that we can look forward to a transformation of the Mander Centre soon. However, I would like to make an observation if I may.

Last week my wife and I decided to do our shopping in the town (sorry, city) with most of it in the Mander Centre.

We parked on the convenient shoppers' ar park on the roof.

After completing our shopping and enjoying a cup of coffee we returned to our car and a £5.10 parking charge because we had spent more than two hours spending money in the Mander Centre.

On that basis we can drive to Merry Hill, get free parking and have a better choice of shops and stay as long as we like.

So unless we are going to get free parking in the new Mander Centre, why would we bother?

Not hard work, it's called being a parent

IT doesn't matter how much you try to encourage healthy eating at school, the children that the Government are targeting will still go home and eat what their parents give them or snack on what's in the cupboard.

School should be for teaching, not feeding. If the government wants to promote healthier eating, it's the parents they need to be looking at.

I know many will whine that they are single parents and haven't got time cook healthy meals from scratch. Well, I'm a single dad with sole custody of my 13 year old and she wakes up to a healthy breakfast every morning. I send her to school with a healthy packed lunch each day and at night I make a healthy evening meal, and I run my own business in the meantime. I also help with her homework, read to her and spend time supporting extra-curricular sports activities.

It's not hard work, it's called being a parent and it's worth any sacrifice because I care about my daughter's future.

Children learn the basics of good morals and a hard working ethos from their parents at home, then the more specialised academic subjects from teachers at school.

If the parents are lazy junk food addicts with no work ethic, then guess what? The children will turn out the same.

THE DIOCESE OF BIRMINGHAM

Guest tells of passion for travels

DUDLEY SOUTH

AT the June meeting chairman Mary Jones welcomed back speaker Siddique Hussain to talk about his passion for the great outdoors.

He had travelled extensively to indulge his hobby of climbing from the high Himalayas, the French and Swiss Alps and the Tatra Mountains in Poland/Slovakia. He recommended the up and coming destination of Bulgaria which is very inexpensive.

In contrast to his exotic destinations he praised the Sheepwash Nature Reserve in Tipton and the Dudley Borough Trail. He organises group walks himself to Kidderminster and the Cleve Hills in Shropshire. He showed slides of beautiful scenery and the many friends he had made enjoying the great outdoors.

Response

Ann Rogers had had a good response for her outing to Hagley Hall tomorrow (June 27) starting with a tour of the house at 1.30pm followed by a cream tea.

She also invited members to her home on August 8 for a coffee morning and strawberry scones.

There would also be a shopping trip to the Touchwood Centre, Solihull, in late November.

Meetings are at the Kingfisher Hotel, Wall Heath the second Friday each month at 12.30pm. The speaker on July 11 will be Mr Chris Kelly MP for Dudley South.

For further information call the secretary on 01902 372984.

Cake is cut to mark club's 20th birthday

CHAIRMAN Jane Emery welcomed members in June to the Patshull Park Hotel, to enjoy a two-course lunch followed by old time music hall entertainment with Lisa Jayne to celebrate 20 years as CAMEO Ladies.

The theme of coffee and cream was used in a beautiful cake decorated with the logo of CAMEO. Each member enjoyed a slice at the end of the meal served with a cup of coffee. Members were delighted to take home a potted cream rose as a memento of the occasion.

Posh picnic for WI centenary and it promises to be an enjoyable celebration.

There are still a few places left on the Churnet Valley railway trip on August 6. A treasure hunt in Tettenhall is also planned on August 21. This will be followed by afternoon tea.

Claire Preece entertained the group with one of her "easy" quizzes before refreshments. Speaker was Margaret Jarman, the UK director of the charity Cambodian Child's Dream Organisation who provide clean water and sanitation to villages.

She explained how she became involved and has travelled to the jungles of Cambodia to see a well built in her husband's memory.

Since water wells were built, the death rate has decreased by 25 per cent from water related diseases. On July 10 Penny Wheat will talk about the craft of the silversmith.

Gaurav taking his first steps towards new life

A BRAVE toddler who inspired a worldwide search for a bone marrow match has taken his first steps after receiving a life-saving stem cell transplant.

Three-year-old Gaurav Bains, of Alexandra Road, Tipton, was given a life-saving stem cell transplant in December at Birmingham Children's Hospital following a huge campaign to find a donor.

The youngster spent almost six months recovering from the operation but was recently filmed by his family learning to walk all over again.

The footage was recorded at family-owned Tipton business Bains Supersave last month by his parents Gurprit and Sunny, who are encouraging people to join the bone marrow register.

The youngster was diagnosed with rare blood disorder Monosomy 7 Syndrome in June last year and his parents were told his best chance of a healthy life would be if a donor was found before Christmas.

After a worldwide campaign the Anthony Nolan database saw a surge in people registering and a perfect match was found. Had a match not been found, Gaurav's condition meant he would have been likely to develop an aggressive form of childhood leukaemia, which he may not have survived.

Mr Bains, aged 31, said: "It was a big relief to see him walk. He had his transplant in December and was bed-ridden for three months. He was released in March but he had picked up a virus in hospital which affected his strength to walk.

"He couldn't even sit up on his own. He was starting again as a baby. When we saw him sit up on his own that was a massive step. He hasn't got his normal balance like he had before. If he's

Three-year-old Gaurav Bains with his parents Sunny and Gurprit at their home sitting on the floor he's not got the full strength to get up himself, but it's a positive sign for us to see him walking around.

"He's doing really well. He's having physiotherapy once a week at Birmingham Children's Hospital. He'll need that for a while longer. They are confident he will make a full recovery. "We have to keep massaging his muscle and keep him loose and relaxed."

Mr Bains said the couple were encouraging people to join the bone marrow register in a bid to help save lives.

The Express & Star reports Conan Doyle's investigation into the case of George Edalji

George Edalji in the dock during his court trial

Reporting of the George Edalji trial in the Express & Star of 1903

Sherlock Holmes writer Arthur Conan Doyle

The Edalji's home at St Mark's Vicarage in 1903

Miscarriage of justice still fascinates today

IT is a tale that fascinates to this day – and led to the intervention of Sherlock Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

Vicar's son George Edalji was wrongly convicted of a brutal pony mutilation and it fell to Conan Doyle to play real-life detective and clear the young solicitor's name.

Now the Wyrley Outrages – which unfolded at the turn of the 20th century – are to be made into a three-part ITV drama starring Martin Clunes as Conan Doyle.

The ITV series will be adapted from the novel 2005 Outrages & George by Julian Barnes, which was short-listed for the Man Booker Prize. It will go into production this autumn and will be filmed in Greater London and Staffordshire – but exact locations are yet to be released.

The mysterious case started with a collection of anonymous poison pen letters in the name of the 'Wyrley Gang' which plagued the area during the late 1880 and 1890s – some which named George. Then followed the mutilations which shocked the community. Gruesome picture postcards from the time showed some of the mutilated creatures either lying in a field or at the local slaughterhouse.

On August 18, 1903, a pony was found mutilated at the Great Wyrley Colliery Company. Police investigations led officers to the vicarage and to George, whose father Shapurji was the vicar at St Mark's church for 42 years. He was born a Parsi in Bombay and married to Charlotte who was born in Ketley in Shropshire.

George was arrested on suspicion of the pit pony killing – the eighth such slashing – but it was inferred he was also responsible for the maiming and ripping of at least five horses, three cows, and a sheep.

He was tried at Stafford Quarter Sessions in what today is the Shire Hall Gallery. Despite dubious circumstantial evidence such as razor blades found in the vicarage and spots of blood on his coat, he was convicted and sentenced to seven-years of penal servitude with hard labour. The fact that the outrages continued after Edalji's imprisonment was disregarded.

There was huge public outrage over the case – not only at the shocking killings – but also at George's treatment.

Because of the widespread publicity, public pressure to the Home Office appeared to pay off. In October 1906, George was released, although only because the sentence was considered too harsh and his name was not cleared.

He went on to write a series of articles for The Empire newspaper telling his side of the story. The articles caught the eye of Conan Doyle, who travelled to Staffordshire and, just like his sleuth creation Sherlock, began to unravel the case.

Conan Doyle argued that George, who was near sighted, could in no way have committed the crime and, eventually the guilty verdict was found to be unsafe. Home Secretary Herbert Gladstone concluded that George should be granted a free pardon but refused any compensation.

SANDWELL NEEDS YOU TO RECYCLE MORE...

During the First World War food waste was a major issue. It was vital for families to be very careful with what they had and throw away as little as possible.

Now, 100 years later, food waste is STILL a major issue. We throw away seven million tonnes of food from our homes every year – most of which could have been eaten. This costs the average family £700 a year – £60 a month – and is bad for the environment too.

By using your food waste bin you'll save money by seeing how much you throw away. This could help you buy less and save money in the future. It also keeps your council tax bills down as it means the council won't have to pay expensive landfill taxes.

During these difficult times it's important to make every penny count, so we want the people of Sandwell to show some of that war time spirit and do their bit to not waste food.

Lottery backs plan to put historic pictures on line

Express & Star editor Keith Harrison, left, archivist Heidi McIntosh, historian Anne Eales, and university business manager Scott Knight

An ambitious plan to make more than 750,000 photographs, spanning 140 years of West Midland history, available to the public have been given lottery backing.

Proposals to publish the Express & Star picture archive, which dates back to the newspaper's origins in 1874, on a free public website are being developed after the newspaper, in partnership with the University of Wolverhampton and the city council, secured £59,800 from the Heritage

Lottery Fund. The partnership will use the money to develop a detailed blueprint for the project, before the team applies for a six-figure lottery sum to carry out digitisation work.

Support

More than 100 groups and individuals had backed the bid, with letters of support coming from as far afield as Canada and Australia. Supporters included the Black Country Society, the Landor Society, which celebrates the history of Rugeley, the Black Country Memories Club, and the London Wolves Supporters Club.

Mike Pearson, of the Black Country Society, said he was thrilled that the bid had been successful.

"It's not just the photographs, it is the social history behind it, it represents 140 years of how the Black Country has grown and changed."

Wolverhampton city archivist Heidi McIntosh said one of the most common requests she received was for people wanting old newspaper photographs from years gone by.

Express & Star editor Keith Harrison said: "We're absolutely delighted to be part of this project."

Young footballers rally round to support little Leah's appeal

A YOUTH football team has got behind a toddler's quest to raise £35,000 for an operation to help her walk.

Leah Davy was born with spastic diplegia, a form of cerebral palsy which has left the five-year-old unable to walk without help. Her mother Katherine, aged 27, has launched a campaign to pay for an operation.

Members of Netherton Colts donated £1,200 raised at their presentation award nights towards the little girl's cause. The total takes the amount raised so far to £6,000.

Spokesman for the football club Carl Bottle said: "I heard about Leah and the club decided it was a worthwhile cause. We're delighted to help." Player Lewis Hamblett, aged 13, is also making wrist bands to help raise money for Leah.

Mrs Davy, who lives in Rowley

Regis, said: "It's amazing to get the support like this from the football club. We went along to the presentation evenings and the reception was so nice. The money gives us all a big boost."

Leah, a pupil at Springfield Primary School, uses a wheelchair or a frame to get around.

She was born 12 weeks early and spent the first three months of her life in the neo-natal unit at Dudley's Russells Hall Hospital.

Mrs Davy said: "She is just a normal, playful four-year-old girl. We want the very best for her."

The family is holding its next fund-raising night at Mecca Bingo in Oldbury on July 12.

Tickets for the event include bingo cards and a UB40 tribute act. To help see www.justgiving.com/leahshow

Council scrap white only taxi cab rule

A RULE forcing taxi drivers in Dudley to use only white-coloured vehicles has been abolished.

Drivers successfully battled for the controversial single-colour scheme to be overturned and the change came into force this month, ending nearly 20 years of the white only ruling.

The vehicles can now be any colour but must be fitted with new signs which clearly identify the vehicles as taxis to ensure customer safety.

Drivers launched a campaign against the single-colour rule, introduced by Dudley Council in 1996, saying the rising cost of white-coloured vehicles was putting them out of business.

Chairman of Dudley Private Hire and Taxi Association Shaz Saleem said: "We are delighted the change has now been made. It will be of benefit to firms in the borough."

"White cars could be up to £2,000 more expensive than other vehicles and it was forcing some drivers out of business."

He added: "The plates on the vehicles are very clear and show that the cars are taxis."

Bursary is a boost for the less well off students

A COLLEGE with sites across the Black Country and in Worcestershire has been awarded a £20,000 bursary to help disadvantaged students.

Birmingham Metropolitan College which has campuses in Stourbridge, Brierley Hill, Great Barr and Kidderminster has received the cash from the National Express Foundation.

The grant can be used to help young people with the cost of travel, books and specialised clothing.

Principal Andrew Cleaves said the money would be a huge benefit to students, adding: "I'm delighted that Birmingham Metropolitan College has been successful in its bid for the Student Bursaries Programme."

Contributing

"Any additional financial support for students whilst studying is a bonus and will help students to realise their goals as well as assisting families who are endeavouring to support them."

"It's wonderful to see one of our major, local employers contributing assistance in this way and we're looking forward to continuing to work with the Foundation to deliver a successful programme."

The National Express Foundation is providing £100,000 this year to assist progress to higher education or new activities, equipment and training at colleges across the region.

James Donnan from the foundation, said: "The Foundation seeks to help young people from challenging backgrounds to succeed in life. We know a modest amount of financial help can make a huge difference to bursary recipients, enabling them to progress their studies and further their ambitions."

by Heather Large

Launched two years ago, the National Express Foundation is a registered charity. The bursary programme has already benefited students across the West Midlands.

Last week Birmingham Metropolitan College has announced expansion programmes for two of its sites.

Around £8.5 million will be spent revamping the James Watt Campus in Great Barr to boost student numbers with £2.9m of the money being grant funded by the Skills Funding Agency.

A further £1.5 million will be spent on improvements at its campus in Hagley Road, Stourbridge, which is already undergoing a major revamp.

Work is under way on a £5 million scheme to modernise the campus in Oldswinford, parts of which date back 60 years.

Affordable housing is praised by MP

A BLACK Country MP has welcomed figures showing new affordable homes are helping people get onto the property ladder.

Chris Kelly, Conservative MP for Dudley South, said 800 homes have been built in Dudley since 2010 and 157 people have been able to buy their own home thanks to the Government's Help to Buy scheme.

He said: "The Conservatives, as part of our long-term economic plan, took action to get Britain building again and launched Help to Buy so more people could get on the housing ladder. Thanks to these policies, 800 new affordable homes have now been delivered and 157 people have been able to buy their own home in Dudley."

"Our long-term economic plan is helping people to find a good quality, affordable home where they can raise a family, contribute to their communities and enjoy greater financial security."

Scheme to build homes on woodland

MORE than 40 homes could be built on woodland near to a popular park.

Developer A J Mucklow has submitted outline plans to Sandwell Council to build 42 homes in an area of woodland off Halesowen Road in Cradley Heath.

The development, near to Haden Hill Park, would consist of a mixed development of three and two-bedroom homes.

Junction

Under the proposals the site will be accessed via a new junction on Halesowen Road and the housing would only take up part of the site with a large area behind the development left as woodland.

In a report to the council, the developer said: "The development sits within green and pleasant setting."

"Overall these proposals will provide an attractive and appropriate development, well related to its setting and the surrounding area."

The area of woodland has been set aside for a number of years by Sandwell Council for residential development and it was subject to a similar application, for 41 homes, from the same developer in 2011.

That scheme was granted permission but did not go ahead.

Developers bidding to transform parade shops

FOUR developers are bidding to transform a rundown shopping parade which campaigners claim is a blight on Colley Gate.

Around 40 people attended a public meeting last week demanding action on the parade of shops, which within hours of the meeting was hit by an arson attack. Council officers vowed to force owners to board up the derelict shops near Cradley.

by Andrew Turton

A derelict Chinese takeaway was targeted by arsonists. Three fire crews attended the blaze at the former Lucky Star in Colley Gate at 9.30pm on Friday. A man in a neighbouring flat escaped his home but suffered no injury.

Property bosses have said they are hoping the shops, between the junctions of Maple Tree Lane and Colley Lane, will be redeveloped following talks with interested parties.

Compulsory

Potential developers have until July 31 to register their interest in the site before offers are scrutinised and a preferred bidder revealed. They will then seek deals to buy the shops before submitting redevelopment proposals to Dudley Council's planning department.

Dudley Council's strategic surveyor, Chris Walters, told members of Cradley Action Group that they would seek to use compulsory purchase orders if deals were not secured. He said he had been working to market the site as a development opportunity for months.

"The problem we had was that the market for residential and commercial properties had been on its knees for the last few years and it had been very difficult to get developers interested," he said. "But we have hit this at the right time for the market and, where as we had been looking at two years before we could get something off the ground, we could be looking at halving that time once a developer is ready and signed up for the site."

He added that if they had to pursue compulsory purchase there could be delays.

Dudley Council owns two plots of land, by the road junctions, whilst the rest is in private ownership. Lucky Star takeaway, a chemist and a convenience store occupy three of seven units.

Head of environmental health, Nick Walters, told the meeting that notices had been served on owners of two derelict shops to board them up within 48 hours.

Venture Pressings in Cradley Heath have received a major financial boost

Output has increased after grant

A GRANT of £17,400 from the Green Shoots Fund has helped Cradley Heath business Venture Pressings to take on new staff, increase production and greatly expand its customer base.

The firm has used the cash to contribute towards a new press machine and accompanying tools, which has enabled it to ramp up its manufacture of board bands, the steel strips used to strengthen scaffolding boards.

In just over a year the company has increased production from 36,000 to 90,000 bands per week.

The new plant has enabled the firm to complete each job to order on site, removing the need to bring in sub-contractors.

Financial director Stuart Parks said: "The new machine means we can work faster and get the whole job done ourselves."

Venture Pressings employs eight staff at its Cradley Road factory and four apprentices have been taken on.

Broker in move to new offices

A SPECIALIST classic cars and motorbikes insurance broker is moving its headquarters from Cradley Heath to Dudley.

Footman James, which has been in Cradley Heath since its creation in 1983, is taking over the former Rentokil Initial offices in Dudley town centre.

All 150 staff will move from the current base in Waterfall Lane to Castlegate Business Park.

Andy Fairchild, managing director, said: "We combine our operation as one of the UK's leading insurance brokers for classic cars and bikes with a very proud heritage in the West Midlands. We are delighted to announce our move as well as firmly retaining our Black Country roots."

The move will take place later this year following refurbishment at the Dudley site.

The business has more than 100,000 policyholders.

'Brazil' lifts the trophy

THE second Black Country Chamber five-a-side football competition was won by Lift & Engineering Services from Cradley Heath.

Each of 20 competing chamber members was drawn to represent a country in the World Cup for the tournament on the Halesowen pitches of chamber member Lucozade Powerleague. Lift & Engineering Services as Brazil took on Birmingham Metropolitan College, as Algeria, in the final to snatch victory 4-3.

Japan

Japan – an ancient culture of emperors, fierce shoguns, samurais and brutal martial arts. Yet it's also a place of gentle geishas, colourful kimonos, exquisite garden design and Zen Buddhism.

The tour covers three of Japan's capitals, both past and present: Tokyo, Kyoto and Nara.

There's the chance to ride on a high speed bullet train past iconic Mt. Fuji, a trip by aerial gondola to see the Owakudani 'Boiling Valley' and the option to stay at a typical Japanese Inn, bathe in a hot spring, and see the spot where the first atom bomb was detonated.

In Tokyo see its most fascinating districts, including the shopping and entertainment mecca of Ginza and the Akihabara electronic town – home to one of the first stores devoted to personal robots. Then to the north of the city there's the scenic area Nikko National Park, relatively unknown outside Japan. Surrounded by breathtaking lakes, waterfalls, forests and hot springs, a visit is made to one of the country's most extraordinary shrines - dedicated to one of its great Shogun warriors.

Kyoto, still considered to be its cultural heart has carefully retained far more of historical Japan than any other major city. With exquisite shrines, temples, Zen gardens and traditional handicrafts, the city is an absolute treasure-trove.

Nara, Japan's first capital, dates back to the eighth century. Here, traditional culture first took root and is famous for its great Buddhist monuments including a large bronze buddha as well as time-honoured festivals.

Hiroshima is forever destined to be synonymous with the world's first use of an atomic bomb and a visit is made to the Peace Memorial Park and museum, with the shattered remains of the nearby dome marking the epicentre of the blast.

On this holiday of a lifetime prepare for wonderful service, the world's politest people and be immersed in this extraordinary culture of contrasts, where the neon lights and gadgetry of huge futuristic cities live side by side with ancient shrines and hot spas.

There have been a lot of bad news stories in the press and in the news in the last 6 months regarding care homes and carers failing to do their job properly. Our carers don't just see their job as a job, they go that extra mile for each and everyone of the people they care for, nothing is too much trouble. Our staff are fully trained in dementia and we evaluate each and every one we care for differently, not everyone's needs are the same and we make sure that we get it right from day one.

We like to find out what the people we care for like, their interests, their past and their future.

We don't just come in and do the basics, if something else needs doing then our carers fully understand that not every day is the same and will be more than happy to help out in any way they can. We do things differently and we would like to invite you to pop along to our open day so that you and the person who may need some care can not only meet our carers but can meet the people we care for. What better way can there be to find out how we work and the things we do that help the people we care for by meeting them for yourself.

When we make an assessment these include:

- Personal care needs, including
 - likes and dislikes
 - Dietary likes and dislikes
 - Medication and how its managed
 - Communication problems and needs
- Anxiety, fear, agitation and aggression, how these are exhibited and how they can be overcome.
- Continence Care
- Other mental health issues
- Family anxieties
- Environmental likes, dislikes.
- Shopping, preparation of food, cooking and eating.
- Cleaning
- Financial issues
- Leisure requirements
- Religious beliefs
- Family importance

Cadbury launch 4D experience

CADBURY World's latest attraction is a 4D cinema. It has been 18 months in the making and cost £2 million to build before opening to the public last Friday.

Visitors to the Bournville attraction are led to a lift that plunges into the basement. The doors then open up into a room with a wide-screen TV where families are invited to join in with an interactive memory game, before being led inside the 60-seat theatre, which includes motion seats, surround sound and a state of the art production.

The staff hand out 3D glasses and tell everyone to 'hold on tight'.

The six-minute experience takes visitors on a 4D journey into the sky, flying over houses and factories across the Midlands before plunging to the ground, landing on a Crunchie rollercoaster along the way.

Albion make refund pledge to angry season ticket holders

WEST Bromwich Albion Football Club is offering season ticket refunds to fans left fuming by the choice of Alan Irvine as head coach.

The Baggies have written to 100 supporters who demanded refunds in the wake of Irvine's appointment and told them they will get their money back if they confirm the request by next Thursday.

Albion chiefs have told supporters that refunds will be given to anyone who follows up their initial request with a formal refund demand by letter or email by midday on deadline day July 3.

The offer could apply to more than just the 100 fans as some complainants wrote on behalf of relatives but it will not be extended to fans who did not request a refund in the first week after Irvine's appointment.

The Baggies hope many fans will change their minds. The club has already received several follow-up emails retracting refund requests.

Surprise

Express and Star Baggies columnist Neil Whitehouse, from Sedgley, said: "I think there was a knee-jerk reaction when the appointment was made and you have to admit it was a bit of a surprise.

"I would like to think most fans have settled down a bit and will give the bloke a chance.

"I think most genuine fans will stick with the club and stick with him. The reputation he has in the game seems a very good one, it was just not the name we had been expecting.

"If fans want their money back I suppose it is their prerogative but I think most of us are going to get behind him."

Supporters reacted angrily to Irvine's appointment after the club initially looked set to offer the head coach's job to the former Tottenham Hotspur manager Tim Sherwood.

Irvine's only previous managerial experience came at Preston and Sheffield Wednesday, where he failed to make a major impact.

But the 55-year-old is a highly respected coach, having served as David Moyes' assistant manager at Everton.

Adult season ticket prices at The Hawthorns start from £349.

Police warning over burglaries

DISTRACTION burglars are targeting pensioners across the Black Country and Birmingham by claiming they need change for a pound coin to make a phone call.

Police have told residents to be vigilant after a spate of incidents involving cruel tricksters.

But West Midlands Police also have good news, saying that despite the recent spike, the number of distraction burglaries have fallen significantly over the last decade.

In Lockington Croft, Halesowen, around midday on June 7 an elderly woman answered her door to a woman who asked for change to call a taxi. Detectives say the woman followed the pensioner into her house before trying to snatch money from her purse. However, on this occasion she left without anything.

But other similar incidents have been reported in Lower Gornal, Kingswinford, Oldbury, West Bromwich, Walsall, Wolverhampton and east Birmingham.

Mother campaigning for safer crossing

Jo Messinger with Adam and Zach at the crossing

A MOTHER-OF-TWO has described how she and her sons were almost knocked down while walking home from school and she is now calling for road safety measures.

Jo Messinger, 41, says she and Adam, eight, and Zach, six, were almost hit by a van at a crossing at Thorns Road at the junction of Quarry Bank High Street while on their way from Mount Pleasant School.

As she crossed on the pedestrian green light, the vehicle turned right toward the High Street but then started a U-turn down the other side of Thorns Road, stopping a metre away from the family in the middle of the road. The incident happened in February but Mrs Messinger says there have been several near-misses since. She is calling for improved safety measures and has teamed up with charity Sustrans to call on police and Dudley Council to back her.

Dudley Council leader David Sparks said a review was being carried out over the timing of the traffic lights. Mr Sparks, whose ward is Quarry Bank, added: "The fundamental problem is the irresponsibility of drivers who are determined to break the law."

Directors could stop 'Trojan horse' plots

A NEW wave of academies and free schools would be brought under the oversight of directors of standards under plans revealed by Labour's education spokesman.

Tristram Hunt says his plan would prevent a repeat of the 'Trojan horse' controversy in Birmingham, where some schools have been placed in special measures after allegations of a plot to run them by strict Islamic rules.

Mr Hunt was visiting a school and a college in the Black Country with Dudley North MP Ian Austin and Dudley South Labour candidate Natasha Millward, who are campaigning for education and skills to be top priority for the region. Mr Austin wants to see new well-paid and secure jobs revive the Black Country but said they will only be there if young people possess qualifications that businesses want. They met Lowell Williams, principal of Dudley College, and students who gave them a tour. The shadow education secretary then went to Ellowes Hall Sports College.

Aynuk portrait is focus of festival of fun at cone

HIS cheeky grin and infectious humour is as well known in the Black Country as faggots and paes.

And now an image of the popular comic Aynuk is being committed to canvas for an auction as part of Black Country Day celebrations.

Wordsley's Red House Glass Cone is hosting a three day festival of comedy, music and poetry for the Black Country Festival from July 11 to 13.

Smile

And the master of mirth himself is having his mischievous smile recreated for a painting to be auctioned off during the weekend.

Wollaston-based artist David Jones, aged 38, has been commissioned to create a painting of Aynuk, aka Alan Smith, for the festival organised between Dudley Council and KMS events.

The oil-based painting is in its final stages ready to go on sale for charity with proceeds for the day going to the Tettenhall Horse and Donkey Sanctuary.

Mr Jones, who also teaches art classes and had worked for fine art companies, said: "With Aynuk what I'm aiming to do is bring out his smile and his cheeky grin. I'm putting the finishing touches to it now."

Black Country Day takes place on July 14 and aims to celebrate all things which are great about the area.

The festival held as part of the celebrations will kick off with A Black Country Night out on July 11 featuring Aynuk, The Fizzogs, Black Country Gaz, Emma Rollason as Dolly Allen and The Sponners. Tickets for the comedy evening cost £10 from www.wegotickets.com

Council preparing to axe 230 more jobs

MORE than 200 jobs will be axed at Sandwell Council over the next financial year as the authority tries to balance its books.

Bosses have announced that 230 posts will go by April 2015, which follow nearly 700 job cuts at the council since 2011. The cuts come at a time when cash-strapped Sandwell Council has to make more than £120 million of savings by 2016.

Council deputy leader Councillor Mahboob Hussain said: "These are difficult times and tough decisions have to be taken."

"We are sorry to see jobs going but we will do everything we can to protect frontline services."

The number given for the latest cuts are an estimate of what is necessary to make the required savings.

GMB regional officer Mohammed Khalik said the was in consultation with the council. He added: "There are numerous cuts taking place across the council and we need to make sure that the staff that are left are being supported. It's a huge concern, with the cuts going on in a number of services that have seen some cuts already."

Villagers in call to move the parish boundaries

HUNDREDS of campaigners are demanding changes to parish boundaries, which they believe give villagers a raw deal on services.

A protest is gathering momentum calling for Hagley, near Stourbridge, to no longer be cut in half by traditional boundaries. The centre of the village comes under the Hagley parish but West Hagley, on the outskirts, is part of the parish of Clent. Around 500 people have signed the petition by Hagley Residents Action Group calling for a review.

Bromsgrove District Council says it is planning to hold a review after the request from campaigners to transfer those homes to Hagley Parish Council for local governance. The current parish boundary is based on Gallows Brook and has been the boundary for more than 150 years.

But the campaigners say that since then almost 500 homes have been built in the Clent Parish part of Hagley.

They claim the change in boundary would give greater power to Hagley Parish Council to help safeguard vital services such as the community centre, transport links and the library.

Hagley Parish Council has backed the scheme with Councillor Steve Colella, who is also a member of the district authority, welcoming the idea.

"We have received a great deal of backing for this campaign and one which I am more than happy to support," he said. "As chairman of Hagley Parish Council it seems illogical that we represent only part of Hagley and unable to support or

represent residents who live no more than a road width away.

"I'm keen to see that Hagley is a community that is unified and common goals involve the greater area of Hagley and not just a proportion of it. I can reassure residents who live in the area under review that the change will not be detrimental in anyway but will bring the community closer together."

"It is an anomaly that part of Hagley village is being represented by a parish council that is remote from where many residents live."

Residents' campaigner Fran Evans, who lives in the Clent parish part of Hagley, said: "We believe it will also ensure that our interests are better represented by Hagley Parish Council. I have attended a Clent Parish Council meeting and I didn't feel as if many of the issues discussed affected me, whereas virtually all the issues discussed in Hagley Parish Council meetings have an impact on our everyday life."

Black Country theme to hall comedy show

A MONTHLY comedy night will celebrate the humour of the Black Country at its next event, in July.

Kum-n-avaloff will be held at Stourbridge Town Hall on Thursday, July 3.

And the event will tie-in with celebrations surrounding the official Black Country Day on July 14.

Headlining the event will be comedian Andy White, from Smethwick.

Regular compere Dan Smith will host the evening and there are two more support acts still to be confirmed.

Tickets are £8 and include a curry. They can be purchased online from the www.dudley.gov.uk/entertainment website.

Councillor Pete Lowe, deputy leader of Dudley Council, said: "Kum-n-avaloff is always a popular and funny show."

He added: "We are looking forward to celebrating our local humour as part of the Black Country Festival."

to their topics. We make very innovative use of our Pupil Premium to close the attainment gap. Sport's Premium is used to fund sports' coaches to ensure high quality PE. In addition we provide opportunities to swim in three year groups and fund whole class music provision across a number of year groups. We fully fund a wide range of after school clubs across all age ranges to ensure children have equal access to enhanced provision. Our Early Years provision is a real strength – in our recent OFSTED report it was highly praised in terms of provision, experiences and leadership. Kids' Club hosts before and after school provision as well as providing school holiday cover on our school site. We are a co-operative Trust school, part of The Rowley Learning Trust in partnership with four other local primary schools and a range of partners. We would love to show you around our fabulous school and currently have Nursery places available for September.

We would be delighted to welcome you to visit our friendly, family school!

We can offer your child a varied and stimulating curriculum in our caring, friendly, family school! All children's achievements are important to us. Gift that keeps on giving for more than 60 years

Happy couple – Fred and June Simonds celebrate their milestone diamond wedding anniversary

IT WAS the birthday present that lasted for more than 60 years as a diamond couple celebrate reaching a marriage milestone.

Fred Simonds had invited a host of old school friends to his 21st birthday party – many of whom he had not seen in years.

But little did he know that a dance with one former classmate would lead to marriage. Fred and his wife June, aged 84 and 82 respectively, have now celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary. The couple were both raised in Warley and attended Oldbury Country High School. Fred recalls seeing his future bride aged just 13 but they remained only acquaintances.

After leaving school Fred first worked as an estate agent before serving 18 months National Service as a driver in the Royal Engineers at Long Marston, near Stratford-upon-Avon.

It was at the hall at St Gregory's Church, in Bearwood, for Fred's 21st birthday that the pair were reunited. "I saw her and I just thought I'd ask her to dance. It is amazing to think it is 60 years later," Fred said.

They tied the knot at Holy Trinity Church in Smethwick three years later. The couple have three children – Robert, aged 56, Stephen, 54, and 51-year-old David – seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

June moved into Netherton Green Nursing Home, Bowling Green Road, Netherton, three and a half years ago.

Pop nostalgia with stars of the 1970s

NOSTALGIA for the 70s will be all the rage at the LG Arena tomorrow when the Once In A Lifetime show packages some of the era's best known names.

Don't expect identical line-ups from the heydays of these pop acts. Topping the bill The Osmonds now include only three of the American brothers who conquered the world. There will be Jay, Jimmy and Merrill but no Donny.

Showaddywaddy feature two originals and one is the drummer. At least Les McKeown's Legendary Bay City Rollers has Les, the original singer for the Scottish popsters who had a tartan army of fans, and David Essex can't be replaced. Tickets cost £47.70.

Danish drama and teen humour

THERE is plenty of new drama to be seen at Birmingham Rep's smaller Door and Studio venues.

Frequently Asked Questions, New Wolsey Young Associates' guide to life for teenagers is staged tomorrow night at The Door.

A show for the under-8s, Peep!, is at The Door for morning and matinee performances on Saturday.

As part of the Be Festival of European culture, Danish theatre company Out of Balanz present Next Door, inspired by a neighbour's death, at The Studio from Wednesday to next Friday. Call 0121 236 4455.

Musical was born to boogie

THE LIFE and music of 1970s glam rocker Marc Bolan will be celebrated in musical 20th Century Boy at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre from Monday to Saturday.

Bolan lit up the early 70s with his electric boogie band T Rex, leading a glam rock boom that also featured David Bowie, Slade and Sweet, but he died aged 29 when his Mini driven by girlfriend soul singer Gloria Jones crashed into a tree. The show starts with Bolan's son seeking to learn more about his father, who was a London mod and then a hippy before hitting the big time.

20th Century Boy The Musical stars Warren Sollars as the cork-screw-haired pop star and features his hits, including Get It On, Metal Guru, I Love To Boogie, Hot Love, Ride A White Swan and, of course, 20th Century Boy.

THE American songbook gets an airing over the next couple of weeks with two classic US musicals on stage in Birmingham.

Cape Town Opera open their British tour of the lavish and seldom staged musical Show Boat at Birmingham Hippodrome on Wednesday, July 2, for four nights and two matinees.

The story follows the lives of the performers, stagehands and dock workers involved with floating fun palace the Cotton Blossom, a Mississippi show boat, over a 40 year period. The epic production promises all the glamour and flourish of a big family musical but with a story that highlights the racial tensions people faced at that time.

The show features more than 200 costumes, a set by the renowned stage designer Johan Engels, and the music and songs of Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein II sung by South Africa's finest opera singers and played by the 30-strong Cape Philharmonic. The emotional score includes Can't Help Lovin' Dat Man and the showstopping Ol' Man River.

A revival of Irving Berlin's Annie Get Your Gun, starring Emma Williams as sharpshooter Annie Oakley and Jason Donovan as Frank Butler, will be staged at Birmingham's New Alexandra Theatre from Tuesday to Saturday.

Boasting such songs as Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better, There's No Business Like Show Business and Doin' What Comes Natur'l'y, the Wild West show also features comic actor Norman Pace as Buffalo Bill.

Meanwhile, it's songs from the rock 'n' roll era that will be heard at the Hippodrome until Saturday night with Buddy, the West End hit musical about 1950s star Buddy Holly being staged.

Once Upon A Time, a new piece of musical theatre written and devised by Looked After Young People from Birmingham, will be performed at the Hippodrome's Patrick Centre on Sunday, July 6.

A scene from Cape Town Opera's Show Boat arrives at the Hippodrome for a summer stint, July 9 to September 6. Emily Tierney and Nikki Davis-Jones will star as Glinda and Elphaba, with Liam Doyle as Fiyero in the touring version of the hit musical prequel to The Wizard of Oz.

Based on Gregory Maguire's novel, Wicked re-imagines the characters created by L. Frank Baum in his Oz stories to tell the story of an unlikely friendship between two sorcery students who become Glinda The Good and the Wicked Witch of the West. It is packed with technical wizardry, a witty story and memorable songs by Stephen Schwartz, including Defying Gravity.

Terry Gilliam and John Cleese

Imagine: Monty Python – And Now for Something Rather Similar (BBC1, 10.35pm)
Eric Idle once joked that the Monty Python team would only get back together if Graham Chapman came back from the dead. There’s been no sign of a Lazarus-like resurrection from the pipe-smoking sixth member of the team, and yet back in November the comedy group announced a one-off show at London’s O2. Demand was so high that more dates were quickly added yet Cleese and co have been at pains to point out that this is not only a reunion – it’s also a farewell. The Pythons have decided this will be the last time they’ll work together as a group. Alan Yentob catches up with each member to give them the Spanish Inquisition, talking about individual projects.

Matt Baker and Ellie Harrison are in Lincolnshire, where he meets one of the last surviving members of the Dambusters squadron and takes to the skies in a Lancaster bomber, and she goes searching for a rare orchid and helps take down the sails of an eight-sailed windmill – said to be the only one in existence. Including Weather for the Week Ahead. 8.20 Antiques Roadshow. Fiona Bruce and the team pay the first of two visits to Wentworth Woodhouse, a stately home near Rotherham in South Yorkshire. Red button viewers can play along by guessing the valuations. 9.20 Casualty. Fletch makes a huge sacrifice to save Tess when she is involved in a horrendous train crash. To mark the 700th anniversary of Robert the Bruce’s decisive victory in the First War of Scottish Independence at Bannockburn, Neil Oliver and Tony Pollard attempt to pinpoint the location of Scotland’s most iconic battlefield. They are joined by historians, archaeologists and environmental scientists as they set out to gather evidence to chart the events that ended in an overwhelming Scottish victory over Edward II’s English forces, helping seal Scotland’s future as an independent kingdom. 9.00 A Cabbie Abroad: Canada. Mason McQueen heads to Iqaluit on Baffin Island in the Canadian territory of Nunavut, where he joins a small band of taxi drivers who keep the city on the move in all weathers. The Londoner arrives at the coldest time of year and is put straight to work, facing the most difficult driving conditions he has ever encountered as he takes his life in his hands to battle Arctic storms, icy roads and winds gusting at 70mph. Through his passengers, Mason finds out that the indigenous Inuit people are losing their traditional values and way of life and are plagued by high levels of suicide, homelessness and drug abuse. 10.00 Glastonbury 2014. The fourth match in the last 16 takes place at the Arena Pernambuco in Recife, Brazil, and features the top team from England’s group. It is possible that one or both of the teams involved tonight have already played one match here, given that it hosted the Group C clash between Ivory Coast and Japan, as well as Italy v Costa Rica in Group D, which was arguably the stronger of the two groups. Of the eight possible teams that could play in this fixture, only three featured in the last 16 in South Africa four years ago, and each experienced contrasting fortunes. Pick of the Week

Old friends get ready to take to the stage

Monty Python's Flying Circus is no more. It has ceased to be. It is an ex-comedy programme.

But five of the six men who made perhaps the most surreal series in the history of British TV – John Cleese, Terry Gilliam, Michael Palin, Eric Idle and Terry Jones – are still alive and kicking, and on Tuesday begin a 20-day residency at the O2 in London.

Tickets were like gold dust, with extra dates added to keep the hoards of fans happy who desperately wanted to see their ageing heroes in action one last time. We're promised that even Graham Chapman, who died in 1989, will appear via archive footage on a huge video screen.

It should almost feel as if they've never been away, despite the fact they've all carved out very different careers since their last project, the controversial Meaning of Life in 1983 (although the musical Spamalot was supported by all the Pythons and was based on the film Monty Python and the Holy Grail, it was the branch of life of Idle only).

But why get back together at all?

"Purely financial," admits Palin. "We've had this court case hanging around when one of the producers of The Holy Grail decided he needed a bit more of the cut from Spamalot – and court cases don't come cheap. Something had to push us into it!"

"But the speed at which the tickets sold was astounding to us all. So, there are a lot of friends of Python out there."

As anybody who tuned in to the original show will tell you, it really WAS something completely different. What other programme offered funny walks in Ealing, a member of the Spanish Inquisition known as Cardinal Fang, a dead Norwegian parrot, nun boiling in Doncaster, Hell's Grannies in Teddington and a provocative fish-slapping dance down the docks?

However, Python nearly didn't exist at all. Instead, it could have been called The Toad Elevating Moment or Owl Stretching Time, both of which were rejected by the BBC. But whatever the name, the brand of humour would have remained the same – and no doubt have still gone on to influence thousands of comedians.

Initially, the series was meant as a vehicle for Cleese and Chapman, who had worked successfully together on The Frost Report. But Cleese wasn't keen on the idea of a two-handed show, and so approached Palin. He, Jones, Idle and Gilliam were supposed to be working together on an ITV series, but when it stalled, he suggested the four of them could join Cleese and Chapman at the BBC – and so Monty Python was born.

Their bizarre form of humour, inspired in part by their mutual love of The Goons on radio and Spike Milligan's TV series Q, was quickly branded 'surreal' by some, although that didn't nearly describe it well enough. And so, a new word was needed – hence the creation of the term 'Pythonesque'.

Here, Alan Yentob meets Cleese, Gilliam, Palin, Idle and Jones as they prepare to take to the stage together, 40 years after the Python TV show's demise. And so, a new word was needed – hence the creation of the term 'Pythonesque'.

The Pythons' preparations for their reunion shows, Imagine: Monty Python – And Now for Something Rather Similar, Sunday, BBC1, 10.35pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY

The Cost of Cheap Alcohol: Channel 4 Dispatches

Channel 4, 8pm

Once upon a time, anyone wanting to buy in a substantial amount of cheap alcohol ready for a World Cup barbecue might have gone on a 'booze cruise' to France. Now they're more likely to pop down to the local supermarket, where multipack deals and falling prices mean you can pay as little as 70 pence for a pint of lager – and there are also plenty of bargains in the spirit and cider aisles. And while this may not be great news for the nation's landlords and ferry operators, should the rest of us be concerned as well? Antony Barnett counts the cost of alcohol-related crime, violence, accident and diseases, which is believed to run into billions.

Police Under Pressure BBC2, 9pm

These are difficult times for most of Britain's police forces as they try to absorb some substantial budget cuts, but as the first in this two-part documentary revealed last week, South Yorkshire Police are facing more challenges than most. Its reputation has been tainted by Hillsborough tragedy, while its crime figures are among the worst in the country – and unless the statistics improve, the force runs the risk of being taken over by government inspectors. With access to officers on the ground, as well as those in charge, the programme looks at how morale has been affected, and also examines the divisions among the senior ranks about how best to turn the force around in just six months.

TUESDAY

Love Your Garden ITV, 7.30pm

Alan Titchmarsh comes to the aid of a couple who founded a charity to support bereaved families after the loss of their 23-month-old son. Claire and Ian Estick have a busy schedule fundraising and running their organisation, meaning their large L-shaped garden has become a confused mix of children's play equipment, a neglected greenhouse and overgrown shrubs and trees. Alan and the team set about transforming it into four distinct spaces, featuring a kitchen garden and a tranquil seating area, and show viewers how to tackle a towering leylandii hedge.

WEDNESDAY

This Old Thing: The Vintage Clothes Show Channel 4, 8pm

They say that fashion takes 20 years to come full circle, with trends re-appearing after that two-decade marker, but Dawn O'Porter thinks we shouldn't bother waiting – trawling the country's vintage shops will find us all the unique, beautifully made clothing items we could ever ask for, and set us apart from the crowds. In tonight's episode, Dawn meets Emma from Reading, who loves high-street clothes but has lately been feeling dissatisfied with her lacklustre wardrobe. Meanwhile, Dawn's sewing workshop does wonders for an old bomber jacket, and she gets to work on a 1940s tea dress. The presenter also takes a look back through the fashion archives to explain all about the maxi dress, and how the brashness of the 1980s still resonates today.

The Betrayers ITV, 9pm

From false identities to bogus terminal illnesses, this documentary tells the stories of people who have been duped by loved ones. David Checkley swindled more than 30 women out of hundreds of thousands of pounds, using their money to fund a luxury lifestyle. Public school-educated Alistair Stewart posed as a billionaire former Goldman Sachs banker and conned property broker Nina Siegenthaler out of $1million, while the relatives of a dying man were targeted by Beth Hood, who faked cancer for her own gain. Narrated by Reece Shearsmith.

THURSDAY

The Honourable Woman BBC2, 9pm

New series. As a young girl, Nessa Stein witnessed the assassination of her Zionist arms dealer father by the Palestinian Liberation Organisation. Now in her thirties, she is at the forefront of the Middle East peace process, but when her company awards a lucrative contract to a Palestinian businessman who is later found dead, she and her brother Ephra find themselves under the close scrutiny of Whitehall and MI6. Political thriller written and directed by The Shadow Line creator Hugo Blick, starring Maggie Gyllenhaal, Stephen Rea, Eve Best, Lindsay Duncan and Andrew Buchan.

FRIDAY

James Corden Does Deal or No Deal Channel 4, 8pm

For those of us on the outside, this show can look like the nuttiest thing since the invention of peanut butter. However, for those playing the game in the studio, it's like life or death as 22 contestants hope to win a fortune from the 22 boxes in front of them. Noel Edmonds is committed as ever, carrying on the Banker façade like a man yearning to win a Bafta for best dramatic performance. It's hard for anyone weaned on Swap Shop and Noel's House Party, not to love Edmonds. He has turned a hit US game show into something very British: cheaper, less glitzy than its US counterpart, and as bonkers as a Harry Hill sketch. Would we have it any other way?

Jeep sales continue to climb

Proof of Jeep's rediscovered, but continued, popularity in the UK is illustrated in today's new car registration figures for May.

The legendary 4x4 manufacturer registered 279 sales last month, the ninth consecutive monthly sales climb, and up 218 per cent when compared with the same period last year.

The largest model in the current Jeep range, Grand Cherokee, performed exceptionally well again, registering 184 sales – an increase of 207 per cent over May 2013, according to figures supplied by the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders.

Clues as to how Jeep customers are funding their new purchases are given by Grand Cherokee finance figures, which reveal a 450 per cent rise in the number of people choosing this method – drivers clearly seeing the benefit of current zero per cent finance and three years' free servicing offers.

All this comes just as Jeep prepares to launch its new Cherokee mid-size SUV in the UK. The car, available in two- or four-wheel drive, with 140hp and 170hp diesel engines and with the choice of six-speed manual or nine-speed automatic transmission, goes on sale from June 9, 2014.

"The sales figures are fantastic news, not only for the Grand Cherokee, but for the Jeep brand as a whole," says Damien Dally, head of brand, Jeep UK.

The Jeep Cherokee range starts at £25,495 (OTR) for the 2.0 Longitude 140 six-speed manual FWD, rising to £35,695 (OTR) for the 2.0 Limited 170 nine-speed automatic 4x4.

Help to spot used car faults

In a new survey by HPI, the provider of www.hpicheck.com, 73 per cent of people said they have the confidence to conduct their own mechanical inspection when checking out a potential used car purchase.

However, warns HPI, the harsh reality is that around four out of five used cars sold privately have at least one fault, with an average rectification cost of £225.

For just £99, an HPI inspection will give buyers peace of mind that the car they are looking to buy will be checked by a mechanical expert.

What's more, the HPI Inspection can further reduce the stress out of bagging a bargain by negotiating the price with the seller to ensure the buyer doesn't pay over the odds.

Senior consumer services manager at www.hpicheck.com, Shane Teskey, says: "A surprisingly 23 per cent of people we surveyed admitted to having complete faith in the seller when they bought their last car, and therefore, felt an independent inspection wasn't necessary."

"Shiny paintwork and a bargain price can hide a multitude of sins, from minor problems, which could impact the value of the vehicle and lead to mounting repair costs, to major mechanical faults that pose a danger."

"We think it's better to be safe than sorry. Don't gamble with your money and your safety by buying a vehicle without having an expert cast their eye over it first."

Unlike similar services available, the HPI Inspection can be tailor-made depending on the car buyer's needs. All inspections are conducted by a qualified engineer, who can also negotiate the price of the vehicle based on what they find. By checking over 200 individual items on a car, HPI's engineers are helping consumers choose a vehicle that's safe and that won't cost them an arm and a leg in future repairs.

Shane Teskey adds, "An HPI Inspection is easy and hassle free and could save used car buyers thousands of pounds by helping them avoid a bangor dressed up as a bargain."

Marking 30th anniversary

BMW'S popular M5 performance saloon has reached an important milestone – it's 30 years old.

And to celebrate, the German car maker has unveiled a limited edition model boasting more power than any previous M5.

Branded the M5 30 Jahre Edition, this limited run '30 Years' version packs 600 horsepower 40 more than the standard car. Furthermore, it can sprint from zero to 62mph in a lightning fast 3.9 seconds.

This special anniversary model borrows heavily from the Competition package M5 variant, itself a more focused version of the base car thanks to a raft of upgrades such as tweaks to the suspension, transmission and steering.

And like the car, you'll have to be quick if you're interested, as BMW is producing only 300 '30 Year' M5s, with only 30 slated for the UK priced at £91,890.

Warwick & Worcester
Premier Division 1
The George 242
The Greville 180

THE first team put in a terrific performance to defeat current league champions The Greville by 62 shots.

Wins by Jamie Dunn (21-6) and Mick McGuinness (21-16) put The George in front at the start. The The middle four increased the lead to 42 shots with Shane Day (21-9), Steve Darling (21-13), Paul Hemming (21-14) & Elliot McGuinness (21-16) all winning. The back four of Phil Clinton (21-6), Steve Dicken (21-20), Ivan Smout & Marc Wilson (both 21-19) completed a fine day for The George.

South Staffs Premier
Division
The George 236
Short Heath 183

The second team had nine winners in a 53-shot win against Short Heath. The best for The George were Stewart Meddings (21-7) and Peter Hayne (21-10).

Warwick & Worcester

The George 230
Royal Oak 195

The third team defeated league leaders Royal Oak by 35 shots. Paul Rose (21-3) and Liam Hickman (21-11) doing the damage.

Winning draw is enough

Eastnor 2nd XI 153 Stourbridge 2nd XI 184

Stourbridge winning draw

Batting first Stourbridge 2nd XI failed to capitalise on a sound start by their opening pair Ryan Willets and Nabeel Ali.

Willets took the lead by carving out 69 when he was bowled by Mohammed Munir. His partner Ali was caught off Mohammed Asim Ibrar for 29.

Next highest score to Willets was by tailender Irfan Ahmad who remained not out on 31 batting at nine. Munir helped himself to five wickets for 26 off 13 overs. Stour's effort was foiled by the resistance from Jamie Onions (36) and No.11 Mohammed Asim Ibrar (1).

Wolves suffer first defeat on home patch

Speedway

MISFIRING Wolverhampton slumped to their first home defeat of the season at the hands of table-toppers King's Lynn.

A spectacular performance from Tai Woffinden was not enough to prevent his side from slipping to a 53-37 loss on a disappointing night.

The world champion was in inspired form fresh off the back of his British Final win last week, storming to four race wins from his five outings.

Yet he received minimal support from the remainder of the side, as Peter Adams' men were simply outclassed by a rampant

King's Lynn. Wolves fought hard early on, with two wins for Woffinden backed up by impressive victories for Ricky Wells and Ty Proctor to give them a two point lead after five heats.

However, the same Proctor-Wells partnership conceded two 5-1s in quick succession to see the hosts fall six behind.

A classy win for Woffinden in heat ten moved them back within four and set up a nervy finale. But Wolves collapsed late on – conceding three consecutive 5-1s to leave them in disarray.

Woffinden did claim a classy win in heat 15 to help limit the damage, but it was too little too late as his side slipped to defeat.

Ty Proctor and Ricky Wells both faded after bright starts, whilst Swede Jacob Thorsell proved solid yet unspectacular.

Meanwhile, Polish hotshot Piotr Pawlicki experienced a rare off night having previously been in blistering form.

He did push Stars No.1 Niels-Kristian Iversen hard in perhaps the race of the night before being forced to settle for second place in heat 11. But he also seized an engine in his second ride and eventually managed only three points leaving Woffinden short of support from the other heat-leader berths.

Wolverhampton: Tai Woffinden 13, Ricky Wells 6+1, Jacob Thorsell 6, Ty Proctor 4, Piotr Pawlicki 3, Tom Perry 3, Joe Jacobs 2+1.

King's Lynn: Lewis Blackbird 12+2, Niels-Kristian Iversen 10+1, Rory Schlein 10+1, Max Fricke 8+2, Robert Lambert 6+1, Kenneth Bjerre 5+1, Lewis Rose 2+1.

Lions lining up with new coaching team

STOURBRIDGE Lions rugby club have a new coaching team driving them forward as the players get back for pre-season training next Tuesday.

Jon Tibbetts is now the new head coach and will be supported by player coach Sam Robinson as they seek to take the team forward into the coming season.

Tibbetts has come through the ranks after having been the club's forward coach for the past two seasons and takes over from Ian Strangward who stepped down at the end of last season after six successful years in charge.

Former prop Tibbetts, played for the Lions when the club was first formed before moving up to the semi-professional Stourbridge Saxons who he keen to keep ties with.

He said: "I am extremely happy to be given the opportunity to help the club move forward and it is a challenge that I am very much look forward to."

When asked if anything would be different, Tibbetts said: "I have some ideas that I want to apply, but my two main aims are to improve the boys, make them better rugby players and utilise the assets that we have with the Saxons; getting more involved with them and have them help us."

Tibbetts view is supported and backed by Director of Rugby at the club Neil Mitchell.

That connection is now stronger than ever following the signing of Sam Robinson, who has been the Saxons starting No. 10 for the past 10 years.

Due to work commitments Sam has decided he would like to help the amateur side of the club develop through coaching but is also keen not to hang his boots up yet.

Robinson said: "I am excited working with the players who have a lot of potential but just need a bit more guidance in a few areas and hopefully I can help with this and can't wait to see what, as a team, we have to offer."

He added "I haven't really seen any of the boys play so it will provide a nice blank slate for everyone, everything is to train for during pre-season."

"Hopefully I am going to bring a bit of freshness and variety, simply as a new face with some different views of how to play the game."

The Lions pre-season is open for all players of all abilities and new faces are always welcome.

Anyone who is interested in joining the club should contact captain Stuart Doolittle 07730 203403 or go to the club's website for more details about getting involved.

High fives as 'Brazil' snatch final victory

It was celebration time for the 'Brazil' team – Lift & Engineering Services Ltd

THIS was the World Cup – but local, as the second annual five-a-side Black Country Chamber football competition took place at the Halesowen pitches of Chamber member Lucozade Powerleague.

And eventually it was 'Brazil' who took the honours.

There was a strong World Cup flavour as the 20 teams taking part were all drawn to represent a country taking part in this year's World Cup. The teams battled through the knockout games with the top two from each group progressing to the quarter finals.

Only two teams could make it to the final and on this occasion it was Brazil (Lift & Engineering Services Ltd) and Algeria (Birmingham Metropolitan College).

With the game tied at 3-3 going into the final minutes and with the next goal surely deciding the winner it was Brazil who held their nerve to score as they managed to snatch a narrow 4-3 victory.

Steve "Scolari" Smith – Team Manager for "Brazil", aka Lift & Engineering Services Ltd, who had entered three teams into the competition said "We all really enjoyed the evening and will certainly aim to be back next year to defend our trophies. It was a great team building exercise."

Baggies have an eye on Moses

THE Baggies are keeping tabs on Nigeria winger Moses, who could be loaned out by Chelsea for a second successive season.

Albion used just one of their two domestic loans last season to sign Scott Sinclair, who endured a nightmare stay at The Hawthorns.

But Irvine still believes the loan market might be useful later in the summer transfer window and that could bring Moses into the club's thinking.

Any serious move by the Baggies is unlikely to happen for several weeks, with Chelsea considering the prospect of selling Moses permanently.

And an auction for the 23-year-old could take him out of the Baggies' price range. But the club would be interested in entering the bidding if Moses becomes available on loan or for a smaller fee.

They tried to sign him in 2010 from Crystal Palace but he opted to join Wigan instead. And they enquired again last summer before he moved on loan to Liverpool, where he found his first-team chances severely limited.

Irvine said: "It will be a busy few weeks in terms of trying to identify and secure a few targets."

Albion eye Snodgrass as bid fails

ALBION are considering a bid for £6m-rated Norwich midfielder Robert Snodgrass after they rejected a second offer from Derby for wantaway George Thorne.

The Baggies are keeping tabs on Snodgrass amid rumours that the Scotland international will leave Carrow Road this summer.

They have again told the Rams that Thorne is not for sale after turning down a bid of more than £1m on Monday night.

Reports the Baggies have entered talks with the Canaries over a deal for Snodgrass are premature, with Hawthorns officials yet to make their interest official. But the 26-year-old Glaswegian is on the club's summer watchlist.

US pair in frame to snap up Villa

A VILLA buy-out is back on the cards amid news that two more American billionaires have discussed the project with Randy Lerner.

The US financiers Josh Harris and David Blitzner have a history in buying out and then reviving "distressed" sports businesses, and are now reckoned to be looking at a takeover of Villa.

They are the latest in a growing number of names being linked to the club since Randy Lerner formally declared his intention to sell.

The news will be treated with caution by Villa fans who have now grown accustomed to hearing the club linked with fanciful investment projects which fail to materialise.

But Harris and Blitzner are business contacts of Lerner and reports from the States are adamant an investment has been discussed.

The pair have been leading figures in sport projects as well as having a lucrative stake in the American Idol TV series.

Separate investment groups, of which Harris is a partner, bought out NBA side Philadelphia 76ers for $280m in 2011 and NHL franchise New Jersey Devils for $320m last year. Both are recovering from crises which led to the takeovers.

Smith looking for firepower

DEAN SMITH is continuing his hunt for more firepower after signing Tom Bradshaw - with Walsall braced for another possible Will Grigg cash boost.

On Monday, Bradshaw became the first new face on the Saddlers forward line this summer when he penned a two-year deal at the Banks's Stadium.

The 21-year-old, a former Wales Under-21 international, rejected an offer to stay at Shrewsbury and the deal went through after the clubs agreed a compensation package.

It is the second time in a fortnight the Saddlers have paid a "fee" for a player, after prising promising goalkeeper Craig MacGillivray from non-league Harrogate Town. And Smith could yet see his coffers boosted further following reports Grigg could be on the move to Bristol City.

Eastnor take Stour down to the wire

Stourbridge 1st XI 250
Eastnor 1st XI 253-6

EASTNOR 1st XI dealt an unexpected blow to the hopes of Stourbridge Firsts climbing up the Birmingham and District Premier league ladder.

They beat the home side by six wickets in a match that went to the wire. Eastnor put Stour in on a good batting track and faced a challenging total.

Stour's openers Alex Bingham (20) and Steve Game (14) were both dismissed by Sajid Ali. The mantle was then taken up by the skipper Richard Bradley and the overseas star Audy Alexander from the 18th over.

They took the score from 48-2 to 148-3 when Bradley nicked up behind off Tareq Jamil with 15 overs remaining.

Thoughts of accelerating the run rate receded as Eastnor took the wickets of Josh Banks and Matt Bradley in quick succession.

Banks fell to Shameer Ahmed for nine and Matt Bradley LBW for two with 47 of the 55 overs used up. Alexander and Jitesh Jivan-Patel took the score past the 200 and regained some of the initiative.

Alexander was caught on 100 taking the Stour score to 236 in the 53rd over off the bowling of Atiq Ur Rehman.

He had batted for two and half hours, posted 12 fours and reached the ton off 109 balls. Patel (35) and Greg Jones (4) remained not out. Sajid Ali ended with 3-72 off his full 17 over spell.

In Eastnor's knock pace man Ali Shah struck the first blow deceiving Andrew Fisher caught for 12. From the other end Matt Bradley had Sunil Rahi brilliantly caught in the gully for 11. Stour was on top with the opposition two down for 29 off 6 overs.

When Arshad Hussain unfortunately retired hurt Eastnor was left with a mountain to climb. No.4 Atiq Ur Rehman and No.5 Faisal Khalid formed a stubborn partnership taking the score to 119.

They resisted all that Stour threw at them until finally Jitesh Jivan-Patel had Khalid caught in the covers for 44 in the 30th over. It was Alexander who took the wicket of Rehman caught on the boundary for 96 taking his team to a score of 211.

DOUBLE TROUBLE FOR ALBION BOSS

ALAN Irvine is facing a double struggle over players after Albion rejected a transfer request from defender Craig Dawson.

The young centre-back joined midfielder George Thorne in asking to leave The Hawthorns, presenting Irvine with a fresh problem to address when he meets his squad next month as they gather for pre-season training.

Albion turned down Dawson's request immediately on Tuesday night as Burnley considered putting in a fresh bid for the former England Under-21 international.

But the club expect both Thorne and Dawson to step up attempts to leave when the players return for pre-season training which starts on July 7 before heading off to America.

Rejected

The Clarets had a £1m bid for 24-year-old Dawson rejected earlier this month but they are expected to resume their pursuit.

Both Burnley and Derby, who have had two bids rejected for Thorne, have been told none of the Baggies' players are for sale with Irvine keen to assess his entire squad next month.

The new head coach received a ringing endorsement from striker Victor Anichebe, who worked with Irvine at Everton when the Scot was assistant to boss David Moyes.

"I know Alan really well, he's the one who brought me through at Everton," said Anichebe. "He was the one who took a lot of the training sessions with David Moyes when I was younger. He was a huge part of what happened when I first came through."

"Everton were doing really well and he was a huge part of that, he's a great coach."

"Alan will always give us great training sessions and we'll always know what we need to do on the pitch."

"You won't go out unprepared," Anichebe said. "Alan plays a good style of football as well."

"I know a lot of people at Everton who wouldn't disagree with me, they will also say he's a great coach."

"The players will enjoy great training sessions, they will enjoy the way he plays and they will enjoy his character as a person, especially the younger players."

"They're the ones who are going to be the future and we've got a few really good, exciting young players. He will give them a chance if they're up for it and they're eager."

"I think that's something Albion fans should look forward to."

Knockout win as Heathens storm into semis

IN-FORM Cradley stormed into the semi-final of the Knockout Cup as they thrashed arch-rivals Mildenhall 59-33 at Monmore Green.

Already carrying a 10-point lead following victory at West Row, the flying Heathens cruised into the next round. They went through 108-72 on aggregate. Fans' favourite Tom Perry struck a magnificent maximum to lead them to a comfortable win. It was another excellent all-around team performance as they continue to dominate speedway's third tier in 2014.

Perry was in sublime form at reserve, blasting round Wolves colleague and Mildenhall No.1 Joe Jacobs in heat 11 to snuff out the visitors' second tactical ride.

Their first attempt at double points had also been nullified in spectacular fashion as Max Clegg stormed around Josh Bates to win heat nine. Having landed back-to-back 5-1s in heats seven and eight and then seen off two tactical rides, Cradley sealed aggregate victory early on before wrapping up a resounding win on the night. With Steve Worrall, Perry, Clegg and Williamson all recording big scores plus Danny Phillips, Nathan Greaves and Paul Starke adding useful contributions the Heathens again had strength throughout.

I decide transfers - Irvine

ALBION'S new boss Alan Irvine insisted he will decide which players sign for Albion.

The Scot is trawling through lists of possible transfer targets drawn up by scouts and narrowed down by new technical director Terry Burton.

But despite the presence of Burton and former sporting and technical director Richard Garlick at the training ground, Irvine insists he will have the final say.

Albion have already snapped up eye-catching free transfers Craig Gardner and former Wolves centre-half Joleon Lescott.

"There wouldn't be a situation where a player came in that I didn't want," said Irvine.

"Clearly there will be players who are out of our reach financially or in terms of contracts or where they want to play."

"But in terms of the players who are in our reach, it wouldn't make sense for them to come in without me rubber-stamping it."

Albion used just one of their two domestic loans last season to sign Scott Sinclair, who endured a nightmare stay.

Office experts to sponsor shirts

OFFICE technology specialists Altdigital will be sponsoring Wolves' shirts for the first Club Legends Cup at the LG Arena on Saturday July 12.

The indoor football tournament will feature former legends from Midlands football teaming up to raise money for Birmingham charity Cure Leukaemia.
